

LIBRARY FRIENDS

Ballinafad United celebrates 106th

By WINIFRED SMITH
Herald Correspondent
BALLINAFAD - The beautiful spring like Sunday morning and the fact that it was the 106th anniversary of Ballinafad United Church accounted for a capacity crowd attending. It was indeed a fine welcome for a former minister, Rev. Kelvin Johnston, who was the guest speaker for the occasion. Previous residents who had moved away came back to worship for this special service, also, St. Andrew's in Georgetown cancelled their service in order that those who wished might attend. The newly formed mixed choir favored the crowd with two selections. Regular minister, Rev. Bandy was present to introduce Rev. Johnston to those who didn't know him. Mr. Johnston, who was at the church ten years ago, said many changes had taken place in the church through the years and he expected many more would take place in the future. He went on to say God was the Church, in all churches, he is the master, the Supreme Being, one that comes or should come first in all church activities. Most stayed for lunch served in the basement after the service.

What can you do?

By KAY WILSON
Herald Correspondent
NORVAL - Brampton West Women's Institute met at the home of Charlotte McClure May 1. President Dorothy Ostrander chaired the meeting and roll call was answered by "What can we do to help young people have a more happy and satisfying life?" Mrs. Kate Laidlaw gave a well prepared motto "The Golden Rule fits us for Life". The 4H Club Girls with leader Phylis Moffatt gave a talk and demonstration on the Fitness Club, with the benefits of swimming, while others did exercises to music. Lois Fraser gave the courtesies and lunch was served by Deanna Cleave, Shirley Reed, and Dorothy Ostrander.

Tool theft

The Grainboard Manufacturing Company in Georgetown reported approximately $740 in missing tools after a break-in sometime between Friday night and Saturday morning. Missing in the incident were such tools as a rotor, drill, air stapler and planer. Access was gained to the building through a basement window.

Lost brother

Mrs. Edna Coates of Georgetown has lost her brother, William McLean of 765 Peel Street in Woodstock. Mr. McLean passed away Saturday, April 7, at the University Hospital in London. He was 64. The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald Norman McLean, he moved to Woodstock in 1937. After apprenticing with the former Johnson Baking Company, Mr. McLean opened his own bakeshop on Main Street in Woodstock and operated it for 21 years.
