

Charger sweep of meet

The Centennial Chargers swept all four competitions to easily win a three-school girls gymnastics meet at Brookville School last Tuesday.

Chargers finished first overall in the 10, 11, and 12-year-old competitions, as well as the 'Elite' competition for club gymnasts.

Andrea Bosman strung together a first-place finish in floor exercises, a second on the beam and a fourth in vaulting to win the 10-year-old division.

Janice Hobbs dominated the 11-year-olds, winning in all three disciplines. Denise Harden was second behind Hobbs on the beam and floor, and second overall. Tammy Challoner was third in vaulting and on the beam to make it a sweep of the top three positions for Centennial.

Kendryn Hutt was first overall in the 12-year-old competition, winning on the floor and second on the beam. Cheryl Hammond was second on the floor and third in vaulting, good enough to be second overall behind Hutt.

Jenny Arnold was unbeatable in the 'Elite' competition, sweeping all events. Tracy Weeks was third in all events to finish third overall.

Local bowler second

Cindy Smith, the Georgetown Bowl 'Bowler of the Year' in the pee-wee division, just missed by eight pins from being declared the 'Bowler of the Year' for all of Central Ontario.

Susan Stevens of Hopedale bettered her average by 85 pins, eight pins better than Cindy Smith's plus-77.

In the junior section, Karen Doyle placed third with a plus-35. The winner, with plus-76, was Shawn Hannon from OK Bowl, in Orangeville. Debbie Lane, in the senior division, started with a disastrous first game but fought back drawing within 28 pins of the leader, Stacey Hawkriff of Bolton. Sarah Gurr in the bantam section was never a threat to Stacey Thomas of Acton.

A team of lady bowlers from the Georgetown Legion Ladies Auxiliary travelled to the Woodstock Invitational and came within 35 pins of taking first prize.

Placing third, they won a purse each, along with other prizes. The members of this team were captain Marion Carney, Hazel Dumper, Anne Nicholson, Leanne Hall, Monica Southon and Rita Ruddiger.

On Wednesday evening at Georgetown Bowl, the tournament scoremarkers and those of the Saturday Y.B.C. leagues are invited together with the Teaching Masters to a fun evening, closing out the season for this group of volunteers. There will be "scotch doubles", prizes and fun games. All volunteers are expected.

Sunday, May 13, Georgetown bowlers will be travelling to the Bursary Tournament, and the Pro Hardware prize competition.
