Mellow trip down memory lane for Cantante spring concert

There's nothing like a leisurely trip down Memory Lane on a warm summer evening, especially when the lovely and talented Cantante Singers are your musical tour guides.

The Cantante girls presented their annual spring concert, entitled 'Memories', Saturday night at the John Elliott Theatre before a crowd of about 150.

The gathering was treated to a selection of breezy, summer songs that couldn't help but provoke a tinge of nostalgia in any music lover. Most of the numbers were from recent movie and Broadway hits.

The smash 1984 hit, 'Up Where We Belong', from the film 'An Officer And A Gentleman', and last year's 'What A Feeling' from the musical 'Flashdance', were performed with a partiiculary high level of energy, appealing to the younger members of the audience.

MEDLEY
The singers reeled through some golden oldies for the older fans, including a Lennon-McCartney medley.

The evening provided some special treats, such as the solo performances of two of the group's veteran members.

Joanna Delroy delivered a touching, teary rendition of Barry Manilow's soft and sad, 'Weekend in New England'. Jane Timleck was no less than superb in her version of 'Tonight I Celebrate My Love'.

TREAT
A second treat was the performance of two songs composed by Cantante member Diana Collett. Miss Collett impressed with a moving solo performance on her first number, 'Come Run Away With Me'. She then shared the spotlight with Miss Timleck, in the most splendid song of the concert, 'How Does Forever Last?'

The final treat was the appearance of six original members of the Cantante Singers, as they rejoined the group for the closing number.

Janine Prouse, Sheila Prouse, Terry Reid, Barb Trevisanus, Susan Kelly and Cathy Mc-

DIANA COLLETT
Gowan took the stage with the 24-member group to perform 'Time To Take Our Place', a song Janine Prouse brought back from the United States on a recent concert tour with the youth performing group, Up With People.

With the aid of energetic director Dale Wood, the Cantante Singers provided an evening full of memories for everyone on hand.

No meeting
This week's general committee meeting was cancelled. According to the mayor's office, Monday night's meeting was cancelled because there were no items for the agenda. The Herald is told that because of the Victoria Day holiday making last week a four-day week, town staff didn't have the opportunity to prepare reports for the councillors to debate.

Don't be deceived!

The headline over last week's column may have led you to believe that the Summerfest Music Hall is meant solely for the old-timers in our midst.

You might have got the feeling, that to enjoy this recreation of the forties, you had to be there the first time and lived through them. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Granted there will be a special surge of nostalgia for those who are carried back to the days of their youth by a Glenn Miller song. But this show is for everyone. Music and laughter never go out of date.

Tickets for Summerfest '84 can be obtained by calling 877-4078. You have two opportunities to join in the fun. Friday, June 22 and Saturday, June 23. The festivities will take place at the Masonic Hall (Highway 7 and Trafalgar Road).

Have you marked June 6 on your calendar? No, I am not asking you to remember that forty years ago it was D-Day, the day that marked the beginning of the end of World War II. I am asking you to consider coming out to the Arts Council Annual General Meeting.

This meeting is open to the general public and all are welcome. The place is the meeting room at the Cultural Centre and the time is 8:15 p.m.

Our special guests will be Mr. Tom Shepard, the Director of Recreation and Parks and Mr. Hank Huhtanen, the Cultural Centre Manager.

If you have any questions regarding the role played by the town in the cultural life of your community, these are the gentlemen who can give you the answers.

If you have some suggestions as to the role the town should play in the cultural life of your community now is the chance to express them.

Dessert and coffee will be served. The atmosphere will be informal. Come and join in the discussion, ask questions, express your opinion or just sit and listen. We would love to see you. Be there!

When it's sunny and grassy and everything smells performed in your garden, then it's time to celebrate spring. That's exactly what Stewarttown Senior Public School music teacher Katie Kirkup-Ortolan and her 60-member choir did Thursday. They put on "A Spring Sing" in the school gym, and invited parents. The choir has one last performance before the end of the school year, at the Halton board of education's retirement dinner June 6.

Chicks lost in shed fire
Firemen were called to a shed fire on the 9th Line in Georgetown last Thursday afternoon which was totally destroyed at an estimated $1500 loss.
The fire was apparently started by a heat lamp
