

YOUNG'S PHARMACY LTD.
Open Weeknights
Until 9:00 p.m.
PHONE 877-2761

the HERALD
Sportswavek
SECTION C, THE HERALD, Wednesday, June 13, 1984 - Page 1

TIDY CAR
TOTAL APPEARANCE CENTER
71 MOUNTAINVIEW RD. N., GEORGETOWN
FREE PICK-UP & DELIVERY
877-6136

PLAYING THE FIELD

GERRY TIMBERS,
Herald Sports Editor

Golf tourney will pass $75,000 mark

Walt Dixon, owner of the Park Lincoln car dealership on Highway 7, is no different than many of us in that he has lost a close relative to cancer.

Because Walt is neither a doctor or scientist, there is little he can do at the grass roots level, about the killer disease that claimed both his grandfathers. However, because he is a successful businessman, there is a little bit he can do.

Every year Walt puts a brand new automobile up for grabs at the annual Bill Smith Charity Golf Tournament. If some lucky golfer connects for a hole-in-one on any one of five par threes at the North Halton Golf and Country Club, they drive home in a new car.

Walt has never had occasion to hand over a set of ignition keys yet. He hopes this will be the year. He wants someone to win that brand new car.

The Smith charity tourney tees off Monday morning. Some 220 golfers will play 18 holes in an attempt to win one of five new cars, free vacations, and holiday weekends in Toronto luxury hotels.

A free Las Vegas vacation, and a trip-for-two anywhere Air Canada flies, will be raffled off at the dinner following the day of golf. There will be prizes for all 220 participants.

BILL SMITH

Bill Smith, former mayor of Halton Hills and owner of a successful auto parts business, started the tournament eight years ago after playing in a similar event in Toronto, in aid of Muscular Dystrophy research.

The Smith tourney is now a happening. Last year he raised $16,500 for the battle against cancer and after the proceeds from this year's tourney are collected, he will have topped the $75,000 mark.

Really, Smith is the ideal guy to be handling this event. And it's his baby. He has tapped into the money tree, calling on local merchants and his closest business associates to support the cause.

He is a relentless recruiter, and a convincing salesman. He has the contacts, the organizational know-how, and the drive to make it come off year after year.

Case in point. Smith sells each hole of the tourney to sponsors at $100 a crack. He has sold 94 holes this year.

Every January Smith assembles a 12-man committee to hit up the local business community for prizes for all 220 golfers. No small chore. But Smith knows who the people are who have the most to give, and to their credit, they come through for him every year.

"I guess that tells you that local business and industry want to get in on this business, because they believe that cancer can be beaten," Smith says proudly.

Of course, you can't forget the golfers. After all, they do shell out $45 for a round of golf. The first $15 goes straight into the Georgetown Cancer Society coffers.

And it's not like Smith has been in this all alone from day one. He's had the help of some of the finest men in the community in nurturing the tournament into the monster it is today.

Men like Walt Dixon, who put up the first car eight years ago. And former Hydro manager Graham Farnell. Kenny Sproule of Rexway Towing. Art Roos of Roos Travel. Labelmasters' Guy Melton. Barry Kedwell, of Cruwood Packaging.

"I guess the basic thing is the cause," Walt Dixon said when asked why he supports the tournament year after year. "Very few families haven't been touched by cancer."

"And with the enthusiasm of Bill Smith, well, you just wouldn't dare back out."

Bants split

The Georgetown H and H Video bantams travelled to Welland on the weekend for the Rose Festival baseball tournament, and split a pair of games.

The locals won their opener, 9-6 over Rexdale, but were ousted with an 8-4 loss to host team Welland.

Against Rexdale, Georgetown built up an 8-2 lead and coasted to victory. Chuck Peebles went 5 and two-third innings on the mound for the win, with relief help from Jaimie Brear.

At the plate, Georgetown cracked out 13 hits in seven innings. The big blows were a two-run single by Greg Tuck in the second, and another two-run safety by Scott Mizener in the fifth.

Dave Tate and Peebles both connected for a double and two singles to spark the Georgetown attack.

In the loss to Welland, the locals jumped out to a 2-0 first-inning lead, and threatened to run away with it in the second inning.

Mike Ross hammered a round-tripper to deep center field, but was ruled out when the umpire declared he had failed to touch third base. The controversial decision seemed to let the steam out of the Georgetown attack.

Pat McCarthy and Dave Tate delivered RBI singles in the first, while Brian Hayward and Ross did the same in the sixth inning. Tate and Peebles shared the mound duties.

Georgetown out-hit Welland in this game, 10-6, but beat themselves by leaving nine base runners stranded.

Smith wins Mayor's Road Race

Mayor Russ Miller (right) hands over the championship hardware to Doug Smith, winner of the sixth annual Mayor's Road Race. Smith won the 5-kilometer event with a time of 15 minutes, 45 seconds, pacing 154 other competitors. Smith accepted his awards at the breakfast following the race, held at Gordon Alcott Arena.

Big leads no help Eagles drop two

The Georgetown junior baseball Eagles dropped a pair of games in almost identical fashion this week.

Sunday night in Hamilton, the Eagles jumped out in front 3-0 in their initial at bat, before eventually losing 4-3. Earlier in the week they watched a 4-0 first-inning advantage dissolve into a 14-4 drubbing at the hands of St. Catharines.

The loss in Hamilton wasted a fine pitching effort by lefty Chris Fabbri, who allowed eight hits over seven innings, striking out eight and walking just two.

All the Georgetown offence came in the first inning, when Paul Guistini walked to force in a run. Brad Yoemans then cracked a two-run single, but that was all the Eagle scoring for the night.

To make matters worse, the Eagles still managed to take a 3-2 lead into the bottom of the seventh and final inning. The home side tallied twice on a pair of Georgetown errors, a walk and a base hit, for a 4-3 decision.

Thursday night in St. Catharines, the Eagles flew out to a big four run lead, thanks mostly to a two-run homer from Gerry Milne. Kevin Hughes scammed home on a throwing error by the St. Catharines shortstop, and pinch-runner Paul Blackmore came home from third on a passed ball.

Starting pitcher Mario Galvao kept the Eagles in it for four innings, but the roof caved in when the home side counted nine runs in their half of the fifth to decide the issue.

The double losses leave the Eagles with a disappointing 4-6 win-loss mark, after opening the summer with three consecutive wins. They will try and get back in the win column Thursday night in Brampton, before returning home for a 7 p.m. date with Welland. Sunday at 2 p.m., the Eagles will host Oakville.

Alcott ladies lose Credit

Marilyn Serjeantson and Audrey Houston of the Gordon Alcott Club combined for a 7-5, 7-6 victory against their Credit Valley opponents in Inter County Ladies 'A' tennis play last Wednesday.

Three other local pairs were less successful. Doreen Thomson and Pat Harris lost identical 4-6, 4-6 scores. Kay King and Brenda Sissett dropped their match, 6-7, 3-6. Isla Allison and Linda Rice dropped their match, 2-6, 2-6.

Today the Alcott ladies play York Old Mill.

'C' gals split

The Gordon Alcott Ladies "C" tennis team split with Rosehorn team on home courts.

Lois Fraser and Trudy Roy won by scores of 6-0, 6-5.

Karin Wilson and Anne Munro won handily with 6-2, 6-3.

Pam Kerr and Daiga Zelek went three sets before losing 7-5, 2-6, 2-6.

Sandy Morrow and Mary Hughes lost in a tie-breaker, 6-7, 3-6.

Next games are against Cobblestone, at home.

Juniors unbeaten

The Georgetown junior tennis team beat Credit Valley last Saturday to remain in first place. Georgetown registered a convincing 7-1 victory in sets, winning 49 of 68 games in all.

In 'Under-15' doubles play, Dave Harris and Steve Eastwood split a close match, winning 7-5 in the first set and losing the second 6-7 in a closely-fought tiebreaker.

Rory Kennedy overpowered his opponent 6-2, 6-2 in 'Under-15' singles play.

Jay Anderson and Dean Jackson teamed up together to win their 'Under-18' doubles match 6-0, 6-1 while captain Mike Hurley won his 'Under-18' singles match 6-0, 6-2.

At the half-way mark, Georgetown leads the Inter County league with four wins and a tie.

Mixed sweep

The Gordon Alcott Mixed 'C' team was perfect in an Inter County match against Malton last week, sweeping six games.

Ann Kennedy and Audrey Houston were perfect, too, winning 6-0, 6-0. Isla Allison and Paul Masterlax were straight-set winners, by scores of 6-2, 6-3, as were Keith King and Bruce Payne, 6-4, 6-4. Bob Houston and Larry Sissett were also straight-set winners, 6-1, 6-0.

Linda Rice and John D'Allison won, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4. Tony Hull and Peter Henning also went the distance in winning, 2-8, 7-8, 8-4.

In another Inter County match-up, the locals dropped four of six matches to cross-town rivals Acton.

Linda Rice and Bruce Payne won 6-2, 6-4, while Kay King teamed with John D'Allison for a 3-6, 7-5, 7-6 victory.

Canadian Olympic team hopeful Doug Smith impressed his hometown folks by winning the sixth annual Mayor's Road Race Sunday.

Smith was the first of 155 participants to cross the finish line in the 5-kilometer event, with a sparkling time of 15 minutes, 45 seconds. Bruce McIntyre was second, at 15:57, and last year's winner, John Warnock, was third at 16:08.

Georgetown Rebel track star Lynn MacPhail was the first female to cross the line in the 5-K event, at 19:58.

There were a number of special categories for the race, including parent and child, the 10-member BiCentennial team event, and the wheelchair competition.

Trophies were also awarded to winners in various age categories, including junior (12 and under), teen (13-19), senior (20-29), veterans (30-39) and masters (40 and over).

The BiCentennial team event winners were Smith, McIntyre, Warnock, Glen Britton, Dave Griffiths, Arnold

Brakel, Jim McIntyre, Debbie Newman, Sue Kristensen, and Allison Irvine. They had a combined time of 186 minutes, 34 seconds.

Kim Harnols won the wheelchair event, followed by John Payton and Neil Mercer.

Bob Daniell and his son, Doug, captured the parent-child competition, with a combined time of 38:07.

Bob Donker and Nancy Cocks were the junior winners, while Sean Cleary and MacPhail were the fastest teens. Smith and Mary Byrne topped the senior divisions, while John Grace and Shirley White paced the veterans. Bob Daniell and Melanija Bray were first among the masters.

Another 76 runners entered the 10-kilometer race, with Mississauga's Rod Schuller winning in a time of 33:57.

Nancy Brown of Oakville was first among the ladies with a time of 36:22.

In the Masters category (40 and over), the winners were Roger Nicholson of Brampton and Beverly Green of Mississauga.

DePaoli, Masson top athletes honored at year-end banquet

Versatile Louis DePaoli and provincial swim champion Sue Masson were named the Georgetown District High School 'Athletes-Of-The-Year' at the 15th annual Athletic Banquet, Wednesday night at the school.

Masson, 18, a pretty Grade 13 student who smashed the OFSAA 100-meter back stroke record with her time of 1 minute, nine seconds, said the award was a nice way to cap off her high school swim career.

"I thought I would be nominated, but I was really surprised to win," she said. "It is a nice way to go out of Grade 13, though. I don't think this award would have meant as much to me a year ago."

DePaoli, 16, a versatile athlete who starred in track, volleyball and basketball, expected the award would go to a graduating student.

SUE MASSON

"Traditionally the award goes to a Grade 12 or 13 student," he said. "It's pretty exciting to win. I guess they gave it to me because I was on three teams this year."

LOUIS DEPAOLI

DePaoli is the 17th winner of the 'John Fokkens Award' for the top male athlete, since Hugh Williams won the original in 1970. The award was given out to co-winners on two occasions, in 1976 and 1977. Masson is the 15th winner of the 'Mary Patterson Award', which goes to the top female athlete. In February, after winning three events at the Peel-Halton championships in Etobicoke, Masson was named the Halton Hills Herald 'Athlete-Of-The-Month'.

She then went on to set the OFSAA record in St. Catharines. In addition to that record-setting performance, she also won the 100-meter freestyle event, and helped win a silver medal in the senior girls 200-meter freestyle relay.

An honor student, Masson will take business administration at Waterloo University in the fall.

A 'B' student, DePaoli isn't even thinking about a secondary education at this point. His goal, he says, is to win an OFSAA title in the junior 110-meter hurdles next year.

Georgettes top Acton, 11-5 after losing to Glen ladies

The Georgetown Georgettes split a pair of Halton Ladies Fastball League games this week, dumping Acton 11-5 at the Fairgrounds Monday night after dropping a 4-3 decision to Glen Williams Thursday night.

The Georgettes scored four runs in both the second and fifth innings Monday night enroute to the win over Acton.

The big blows in the second were a two-run double by Bonnie Penney, and RBI singles by Joanie Hansen and Linda McClure.

Marion McGugan and Jennifer Reynolds both delivered run-scoring singles as the Georgettes added two more to their total in the fourth inning.

They really put the game away in the fifth, though. Linda Donalds sparked the rally with a single and a stolen base. Janet MacKay promptly delivered her with a single.

Consecutive singles by McClure, Becky Halonen and Barb Curry delivered another run. McGugan then unleashed a two-bagger that brought home two more runs.

Curry was the winning pitcher for Georgetown.

Thursday night in the Glen, the Georgettes broke out on top in the second inning when Bonnie Penney singled to score Donalds.

Trailing 3-1 in the fifth, Curry singled to score McClure, who had doubled. The Georgettes added their final run in the sixth, as Becky Halonen ripped a run-scoring double.

Beth Haines took the loss on the mound.

The Georgettes, with a record of three wins in seven games this year, host Hillsburgh Monday night at the Fairgrounds

Take the Herald sports quiz!

My faithful readers. You do so much for me, and I have so few opportunities to repay the debt.

Well, here it is. The first 'Great Herald Sports Quiz' is my chance to give something back to the sports community.

There are 15 questions. A perfect score is 25 points. Just get a pencil, scribble down your answers, and drop them by the Herald office at 45 Guelph Street.

The entrant who scores the highest on my quiz wins a pair of Blue Jay ball tickets. The deadline for entries is Tuesday at 5 p.m.

All the questions have been drawn from the sports pages of The Herald in 1984. I will publish the answers next week.

Good luck!

1. He is the top-ranked professional squash player in Canada, and he won a January tournament at the Georgetown Racquet Club. Who is he?

2. What Sunny Acres major midget player was named the most-valuable-player of the 18th annual GMHA midget hockey tournament?

3. Who was the Hockey Heritage Award winner this year? Name the 'Feature Team' he coached.

4. What did Jerome Stone, Brent Osatchuk, David Hicks, Glen Kaiser and Phillip Hughes combine to do this winter?

5. What team eliminated the Georgetown Gemini from the Central Ontario Junior 'B' Hockey League playoffs this year? In how many games?

6. In what place in the standings did the Georgetown Raiders finish their inaugural Senior 'A' hockey season?

7. Name the five Rebel wrestlers to qualify for the provincial finals?

8. Which Georgetown bantam hockey player was named the MVP of the 24th annual Georgetown International Bantam Hockey Tournament?

9. Which GMHA coach was disciplined for taking his peewee team to a tournament while they were waiting to start an OMHA semi-final play-off round?

10. Which Georgetown rep hockey club went the furthest in the OMHA playoffs?

11. Which Georgetown rep team won a Tri-County championship?

12. Who was the Raider MVP this year? Who was the Gemini MVP this year?

13. Name two Georgetown hockey clubs (not house league or recreational) to go unbeaten this year in regular-season play?

14. Which Georgetown wrestler came second in his weight division at the recent Ontario Bantam championships?

15. What team won the Georgetown Ladies Basketball League championship this year? Which team won the consolation final? Who was named the league MVP?

Well, there it is. Mark your entries c-o Gerry Timbers, Sports Editor. My decision is final. Thanks for participating.

