

TENT NAMED

PSYCHIC RESPONSE

Carole Matthews

Write Carol, c/o Halton Hills Herald, 45 Guelph St., Georgetown, Ont. L7G 3Z6. Send a picture of the person you would like analyzed, along with a short note and a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Dear Carole:
Enclosed is a picture of my sister Kim. She is planning to move to downtown Toronto and I worry for her. She is a Leo but more of a stubborn one lately.

Will she do well? I enjoy your column, keep at it.

Helen from Georgetown

Dear Helen:
Thank you for the compliment on my column, I am enjoying it immensely. Your sister Kim is going to be fine away from home, she needs this, Helen, she has been protected for too long and I know you will be very surprised at how well she will get along on her own.

Kim has a great career as a nurse, and logically, this will keep her very busy for the next few years. She needs to live on her own now, don't worry. You are going to find that her stubbornness at the moment is just her way of covering up her fear of going away from home so try to understand her, she is a true friend to you as well as a sister, a good combination. Wish her luck for me.

Interpretive program

The summer interpretive program presented by the Credit Valley Conservation Authority at the Terra Cotta Conservation Area is underway, offering you and your family a wide range of outdoor activities.

The program will be presented afternoons on Tuesday and Thursday and evenings Wednesday and Saturday. Activities include hikes, visual tours of the Credit River valley, campfire sing-a-longs, nature photography, boating demonstrations, bird watching, and the Kingfisher Klub and youth interpretive programs for young people.

The Kingfisher Klub is open to children aged 7 - 12 years of age and is held every Thursday afternoon from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. Children aged 5 - 7 may participate if accompanied by parent(s). Activities include nature explorations, environmental games and nature crafts. Themes vary each week.

Craftsman day

Enjoy simpler times and discover traditional activities at the Ontario Agricultural Museum's 'Craftsmen Day', July 15 from noon until 5 p.m.

Step into the past and relive the many crafts that were once popular throughout our countryside. A special feature will be a demonstration and discussion of antique clocks and their workings by Tom Jolie of Milton.

For more information call 878-8151.

HERE'S LOOKING AT YOU

Rod Beaumont is the safety officer for the Georgetown, Acton and Milton area with the Halton regional police.

"I like working with children. If you can make an impact with the children you can make it easier for the officers in the cruisers," he said.

Constable Beaumont feels that bicycle safety is the most important item for the children to be careful with this summer and says that means obeying all the signs.

"I look forward to seeing all the friends I've made in the school system next year," Constable Beaumont said.

Plan safety: summer first aid

It's cottage time again, time to open up and clean up and get ready for the summer's fun. As you go through the friendly, familiar process of checking out and stocking up, St. John Ambulance suggests you think safety.

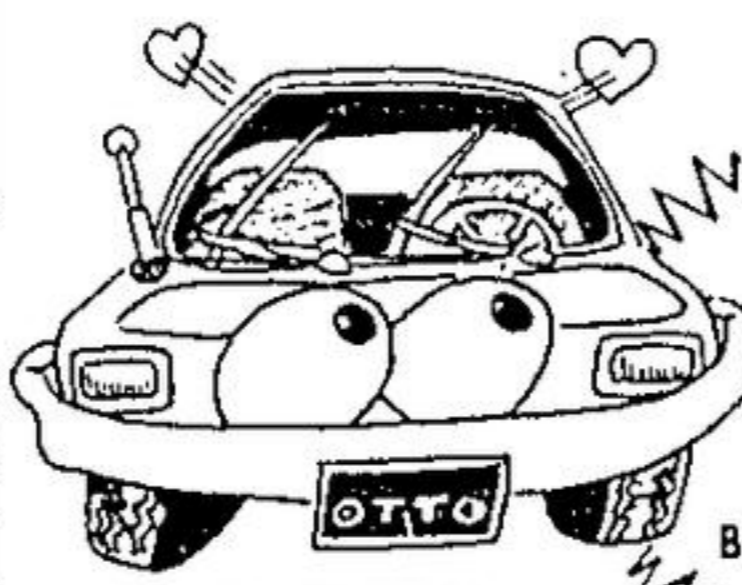

What about those little repair jobs to steps, or the dock or the boat, you meant to do all last summer? You could do them now, and prevent an accident.

Are the stoves and fireplace in good working condition, and the chimneys clean?

How about your life jackets and life preserver? Do they still fit the kids? Are they in good shape?
