

POLICE BEAT

String of charges

A 60 year old Georgetown man is facing a string of charges after being apprehended by the Halton regional police.

At approximately 4:30 p.m. on August 17 the man had assaulted a 64 year old Guelph Street man in a domestic type situation.

Police were notified and were given a description of the man's vehicle.

At approximately 8:30 p.m. the same day police observed the vehicle and stopped the car to question the driver.

As a result police charged the man with impaired driving, driving over the legal limit, driving with an unauthorized plate on the vehicle, driving with no insurance and assault level two.

The man was held until August 20 for a bail hearing.

House robbed

A residence on Highway 25 near Acton had an RCA video tape recorder, a 35 mm Nikon camera, some gold chains and about $40 taken from it after someone gained entry through a window on the west side of the home.

Total estimated loss in the August 17 break and enter is estimated at $1500.

Narcotic charge

A Church Street resident in Acton has been charged with possession of a narcotic after a constable visiting in regards to an "unrelated matter" found three, large potted marijuana plants in the sun room.

A 24 year old Acton female has been charged in the August 17 incident.

Probation breached

An Acton man has been charged with breach of probation, causing a disturbance, and fleeing custody, after an incident on Mill Street in Acton.

The 25 year old man was involved in a fight when police were called at approximately 11 p.m. on August 18.

Both fighting parties were asked to leave by police but one party stayed. A crowd gathered while the constable on the scene was charging the man for causing a disturbance.

The constable at this point was being assaulted by the crowd and a citizen stepped in to assist. In the confusion the arrested party escaped.

He was apprehended later and charged by Halton regional police.

Exposed

A female party riding her bike through the Georgetown Market Place had a male party expose himself to her in the alley at the plaza.

The man was wearing a pair of white dress shorts in the August 17 incident.

Nail apron stolen

A leather nail apron and various tools with an estimated value of $350 were taken from the rear of a pick-up truck on John Street in Georgetown sometime between August 16 and 17.

Tape deck stolen

A Toyota had its drivers side window broken and a tape player with a number of assorted tapes taken while it was parked on Ostrander Avenue in Georgetown, August 19.

Damage to the car is estimated at $100 and the estimated loss is set at $132.

Charged with opening

Both locations of H and H video stores in Halton Hills have been charged with being open on Sunday under the retail business and holiday act.

The stores are located in Acton and Georgetown.

$1,000 in damages

A 1972 Pontiac received an estimated $1,000 in damages when it was struck from behind while parked on Riverview Crescent in Halton Hills.

The unknown vehicle that struck the Pontiac was observed travelling at a high rate of speed and is believed to be a blue Chrysler.

Police are treating the August 17 incident as a failure to remain.

Camaro damages

A 23 year old Georgetown man apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his 1967 Camaro which resulted in an estimated $2200 in damages to his vehicle and an estimated $450 in damages to a fence and a telephone control box.

On August 19 at approximately 4 a.m. the vehicle left the 9th Line white travelling northbound entering the east ditch, striking a telephone control box and a fence.

The man was charged with careless driving by the Halton regional police and taken to Georgetown District Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released.

MOONLIGHT MADNESS

Twelve-year-old Dale McNeven might not quite be big enough to fit into this hockey shirt, but the look in his eye seems to indicate he would like to purchase it. Dale's mother Rude (right) looks on, as does Doug Anderson (left) of North Halton Sports. Dale was trying the shirt on Friday during the Midnight Madness sale held by downtown merchants.

Vandalism

A couple of park benches and a plaque, with an estimated value of $210, were taken from the Glen Williams cemetery on Prince Street sometime between August 15 and 17.

Impaired

A 34 year old Acton man has been charged with impaired driving and refusing a breathalyzer while driving on the 1st Line in Acton. The August 18 charges were laid when the vehicle was stopped with regards to an investigation into a motor vehicle accident.

Fall, winter programs

The Recreation and Parks Department has begun planning Fall and Winter programs. Sept. 5, residents of Halton Hills will be getting a copy of our community brochure, listing the many programs and opportunities available to us.

Registration begins Sept. 10.

Testing water for Acton

By ANI FEDERIAN Herald Staff

Ground will be broken within a month at the first of four potential well sites in Acton, if regional council approves the tender of G. Hart and Sons of Denison Falls, Ontario, today (Wednesday).

It's been known for a while that existing wells in Acton aren't adequate for the town's 7,000 population and with growth anticipated, finding additional water is a priority for the town.

Halton's public works department recently selected four sites on Fourth Line near the Town Line Road (Side-road 32) as potential wells, and has approval from property owners to start test drilling.

The tender of G. Hart and Sons was in the amount of $21,800. A second tender, from Olympic Drilling Company Ltd. of Gloucester, was disqualified because it was incomplete.

A supervisor with the project, Benson Leung, said actual drilling will likely not begin until next month.

He said the well sites will be drilled one at a time and if the first well site turns out to contain a water supply of good quality and quantity, the region will drill at least one more of the sites.

"The more we can develop in terms of water supply, the better it is," Mr. Leung said. "We'll drill another one to see how much more we'll get."

The cost of drilling additional wells will be marginally less because the equipment is already on the site and permission has already been received, he said.

"Looking for water is quite an art," Mr. Leung said. "It's not something we can count on. It's site specific, but we're optimistic."

Information about the quality of the wells is expected to be available September end, he said.

Consulting engineers and hydrogeologists Morrison Beatty Ltd. are supervising the program. They've estimated the cost of testing one site at $12,500.

One of the requirements of the final well site is that it not interfere with existing area wells.
