ABOUT THE HILLS

Welcome wagon show

Welcome Wagon is planning a show for brides in Georgetown at the Cultural Centre Sept. 16 starting at 1:30 a.m.

Once there, you'll receive all the information you need to plan the perfect wedding.

Welcome Wagon brings together representatives from every type of business which caters to weddings from photographers and florist to bridal boutiques and limousine services.

For tickets call 877-8150.

Law student

Jason Mogg has graduated from The University of Western Ontario with a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science.

Jason is now in his first year in the Faculty of Law program at McGill University in Montreal.

Rug hooking exhibit

If you've been wondering what the rug hookers in Georgetown have been up to lately, your curiosity can now be satisfied.

The Georgetown Rug Hookers will be holding an official opening for their exhibit at the cultural centre gallery Sept. 19. Tickets are available for the show that begins at 7 p.m.

There will be a guest speaker, refreshments and items on display will be for sale.

The rug hooking exhibit will be open until Sept. 29 Tuesdays to Thursdays 9 a.m. - 9 p.m. and Fridays and Saturdays 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

For tickets call 877-4188.

Handicapped meet

The Physically Handicapped Citizens' Association are holding a meeting at Georgetown District High School Sept. 19 starting at 7:15 p.m., Room N109.

Representatives from the Halton board of education have been invited to discuss structural changes in the schools as they relate to Bill 82. Everyone is welcome. For more information call 877-1438.

Plaques unveiled

Ontario Lieutenant Governor John Aird unveiled two plaques at the Crawford Lake Indian Village and Conservation Centre Sunday.

The event was part of the official opening of the new complex located near Campbellville.

The new facilities have been created through a two-year fund raising drive conducted by the volunteer members of the Halton Region Conservation Foundation.

The Foundation has raised more than $22,000 of its $700,000 campaign goal. The plaques note the significance of the old Indian site plus recognition of donors who contributed to raising money for the site.

Norval history tour

The Esqueing Historical Society is holding their first meeting of the fall season Sept. 12 (tonight) at 7:30 p.m. Members and others that are interested are welcome for a walking tour of Norval by Rev. Rick Ruggle.

The tour starts at St. Paul's Anglican Church on Winston Churchill Blvd. At the meeting there will be an announcement of the bicentennial essay contest winners.

Stewarttown news

By J. ROSS AND P. STEWART

Herald Correspondents

STEWARTTOWN Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. John Clare who were married last Saturday. Mrs. Clare is the former Christine Sovran. Both Christine and John are from the village.

Al and Myrtle Chamberlain of Campbellford were in this area for a few days visiting their neighbors and friends of a few years ago.

June Ross has just returned home from a few days' visit with her nephew and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Melvyn Hicken and her sister-in-law Mrs. Lillian Hicken of Cobden.

Computer Club meeting

Meetings for the Halton-Peel Computer Club begin again this month. Everybody's welcome to join club members at the Georgetown District High School Sept. 19 in Room 144.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. and there's to be a demonstration of an electronic bulletin board. For more information, contact Colin Davenport at 877-4960.

Harvest festival

Enjoy an autumn day in the country and visit the Harvest Festival at the Ontario Agricultural Museum near Milton Sept. 18.

From 12 noon to 5 p.m., a variety of activities for all ages to enjoy will take place. Visitors will be able to make apple cider using a wooden cider press or try their hand at wheat weaving, a traditional craft of the 19th century.

The Museum's steam powered shingle mill and grain grinder will be in operation and a team of horses at work plowing the fields.

The Museum is located 5 km west of Milton (from Highway 401 take exit 312 or 320 north). Admission is $2.50 for adults, students $1.50, seniors $1.25, children $1.00 and a family rate of $6.00. The Museum is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. until October 8th.

Great campaign team

"I wonder how many elections we have to be involved in before we don't get all excited about what the results will be," Progressive Conservative volunteers chairman Lois Rice said Tuesday night as she sat by the phone waiting for poll results to be called in.

"Geeze, I wish they'd start," she smiled impatiently at cohort Adrene Cheyne. "It takes a while, doesn't it?"

The two have been spending most of their summer days, especially during the last few weeks of the campaign, at the Brampton headquarters for candidate John McDermid.

Together the two have manned the Squire Mews office and managed the volunteers, working often from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

"When everyone's working like eager beavers, there's only one way it can go," Brampton canvass co-ordinator Tom Henty said. "John's got a great campaign team and it's the campaign team that wins you an election."

Georgetown fair a 'smash' success

The horse pull on Sunday drew a good crowd of spectators. Here a team of "light" pull horses demonstrate their strength.

Koko the clown watches one of his team mates during a driving demonstration, Saturday night.

Break dancing was one of the activities which drew the most attention at the Georgetown Fall Fair. Participants from all over southern Ontario showed their stuff.

Ronald McDonald entertained young and old alike on Sunday. Here he is trying different hats on a young boy to see if he can make him grow.

Midway through one of the jumps at the hunter horse show there is little doubt this riding team will make it over. The show lasted a good portion of Saturday and drew many contestants.

A total weight of over 4,000 pounds was achieved by some of the teams in the "light" horse pull on Sunday.

The fabulous fun tent provided entertainment for those 12 and under at the fall fair. While this young girl tries her luck at the bean bag throw one small boy enjoys a sucker from the sucker pull.

Looking somewhat like a member of the Klu Klux Klan this lamb was on hand at the fair as part of the sheep show.

The YMCA booth at the fall fair played host to the Toronto Star's Starbox robot. The robot is capable of walking, talking and taking polaroid pictures of the people it comes in contact with.
