QUICK BURN
Hot water burns can occur quickly. It takes only six seconds for water at 60 degrees Celsius (140 degrees Fahrenheit) to produce a third degree burn. Water at 54 degrees Celsius (130 degrees Fahrenheit) can cause a third degree burn in 30 seconds.

LOWER TEMPERATURE
In any home with young children or infirm elderly people, the water temperature should be set no higher than 49 degrees Celsius (120 degrees Fahrenheit). That will provide water hot enough for household needs but not hot enough to burn before there is time to react.
