UNICEF NEW COLLECTION

UNICEF's new 1984 collection of holiday cards, stationery and gift items is available now at the Georgetown and District Y office at 89 Mountainview Rd. S. It is the most colorful and extensive selection to have been offered by UNICEF in its 35 years of greeting card fundraising campaigns benefiting children worldwide.

Five of the sixteen artists represented in the greeting card collection are Canadian - Marc-Aurele Fortin, J.W. Giles, Jean Paul Lemieux, John O'Brien and Aurele Suzor-Cote. Canadian designs include winter landscapes, a nativity scene and two beautiful cards commemorating "The Tall Ships". Prices range from $5.75 to $9 for a package of 10 cards and envelopes.

The Peave Dove is a greeting card which doubles as a Christmas ornament. Die-cut on recycled paper, it unfolds to become a free-standing holiday decoration. Cost $9 per package of 10 cards and envelopes.

In addition to the card collection, UNICEF offers an extensive range of gifts. Four styles of calendars are available to satisfy both personal and business needs. The office Desk Diary ($12), the Engagement Calendar which doubles as a pictorial portfolio of children around the world ($9), a new and elegant Pocket Diary ($7) and the Wall Calendar featuring children's art from thirteen countries ($3.50).

Other gift items include the Super Gift Box ($13.50) and the Correspondence Folio ($9), each containing a delightful variety of stationery products. Both are packaged in attractive re-usable containers.

Personalized stationery makes a special gift for the person who has everything! Available in two designs the cost is $20 for 50 sheets of writing paper with name imprinted and 50 decorator envelopes with name and address imprinted. Mail order only.

And guaranteed to create a festive look under your tree is UNICEF Giftwrap, which includes ribbon and gift enclosures ($3), and extra Card Enclosures ($3.25 for a package of 20).

These are just some of the UNICEF products available this Christmas. For more information call 877-8163.
