

Halton women celebrate bicentennial

By KATHARINE GARWOOD
Herald Special
The Halton District Women's Institute celebrated Ontario's Bicentennial with an Old Time Dance Nov. 30 at Brookville Hall, Guelph Line.

There could not have been a more fitting way to celebrate these 200 years than with this tribute to the past.
The lively crowd representing Women's Institutes across Halton filled the hall. Mrs. Maisie Lasby, President of the District Women's Institute, opened the festivities.

The floor was then handed over to Mr. Cal McIntyre, floor manager for the evening. Brookville Hall was then jumping as partners swung in and out and to and fro to the sounds of Elleen and Ernie McEnery on the piano and violin and Vern Denny on mandolin.

Like any good dance in those days gone by no tables were provided but only chairs around the hall. Guests from 10 years to 80 years old constantly changed seating and visited with new friends throughout the night.

It would be a plus if this bit of past could be revived for the future.

BALLINAFAD - Sunday afternoon Dec. 9 was the scene of much activity at the farm home of Dr. and Mrs. Buckrell.
It was open house and Carolyn Martin along with Cathy Buckrell was hostesses.
Members of the Eglinton Hunt Club were present, also those neighbors whose property the bounds and hunters go through from time to time in the fall of each year.
