

WEEDLESS WEDNESDAY

Arlene Buckley and Barbara Johnson from the Cancer Society dropped by the Mayor's Office Friday to make sure he didn't have any usable cigarettes for weedless Wednesday. It's non-smoking week and a number of projects have been initiated to mark the special occasion. (Herald Photo)

Ashgrove W.I. ladies store books safely

By MRS. JOHN BELLBODDY
Herald Correspondent
ASHGROVE — The public relations W.I. meeting was held Jan. 15 at the home of Mrs. Peggy Knapp with president Mrs. Bruce McClure presiding.

She opened the meeting with a poem "How to find happiness through the year." It was announced that a safe for storing W.I. books has been purchased, a donation to the Adelaid Hoodless Home Foundation fund was approved and a donation for drug awareness week (Feb. 24-March 2). All were in favor of the registration fees to be paid for the seven members attending the four day national convention of the F.W.I.C. in London, Ontario in June.

Withstood '82 recession

What really sold the Canadian Bond Rating Service on Halton region was the region's ability to withstand the 1982 recession, says regional treasurer Joe Rinaldo. "We still had growth despite the recession," Mr. Rinaldo said. Halton was recently given the highest credit rating by the Service, AAA. According to the treasurer, Halton came out of the 1982 economic recession "Virtually unscathed."

Huttonville euchre

Learning wasn't the only thing cubs experienced

By JEAN LAYMAN
Herald Special
Cubs from Acton, Georgetown, Glen Williams and Limehouse met Jan. 19 at the Optimist Hall for a learning experience, but their resource workshop was also fun- and exciting!

Highlighting the annual North Halton District resource day for second year Cub-Scouts were the animals from "Our Vanishing Kingdom."

For opening ceremonies a welcome was given by assistant District Commissioner for Cubs, Del Woods.

Scouter Del divided the boys into six groups and the Cubs rotated around to the various events.

A Freightliner truck tractor was demonstrated by Paul Farbes of Acton. They all got to blow the horn and some even thought they would like to drive one some day.

Hover skip Dick Rock had a kayak which he had built. He also showed a video of canoe trips that he had taken the 1st Limehouse group on. Canoeing and camping skills was the subject for Dave Hill of Hornby. Dave had a good supply of camping gear, maps and a big selection of pictures taken in the Algonquin District.

Model railroading was shown by Rock Golding. Mr. Golding of Georgetown has been a hobbyist in model railroads for many years.

Scuba Diving was presented by Doug Willis of Ballinafad and ACM Walter Noble of 1st Acton.

Steam Engines were shown by Jean Layman. The engines were built by her husband Jack. Each one had been built to a close tolerance, with a scale of one inch to one foot.

Rope making was handled by Jack Layman, with the Cubs assisting. Mrs. Layman put a back splice in one end and an eye splice in the other end.

Winners of a length of rope went to Ryan McFee and Scott Tarzwell both of 1st Limehouse, Owen Allan, Matthew Bailey, Darrel Ford, all of 2nd Acton and Jason Millar of 4th Georgetown A pack.

Gun safety and a display of guns was well presented to the group by Frank McFarquhar of Hornby.

Modeling the program was a visit by "Harley" a Siberian Tiger. Harley was brought into the hall on a leash by trainer Scott Laffer. Harley weighs 160 lbs. now but will grow to almost 700 lbs. when full grown. The tiger was very friendly and curious, and his purr was sort of harsh but usual for a tiger his size.

John and Scott also had an Asiatic Mountain Goat horn and a Boa snake skin about 12 feet long.

Cubmaster George Henderson of 1st Acton led in a three cheer salute to the committee for a good day.

Nearly 100 Cubs, leaders, adults attend this event, including District Commissioner S and y Booth.
