March break program

Once again the Halton Hills Recreation and Parks Department is offering a March Break Activity Week for the children of the Acton area. The program will be held at two locations - Knox Presbyterian Church for those in Grades K and 1, and the Acton Y for those in grades 2 - 5.

For more information, phone 853-1540 or 877-5185 ext. 219.

Training supervisor Tom Rush of Georgetown is seen here with a staff of advertising consultants taking a seminar on creative advertising. Under his watchful eye, students learned about layout and copy, retail marketing techniques and proper client servicing. The Herald's own staff member Glen Williams (far right) was a participant along with (back row, left to right) Tom Rush instructor, Carl Sinko, Don Little, Dan Taylor, (front, left to right) Lois Hornby, Margaret Jong and Margaret Baltzer.

From 300 fine posters made by Halton Hills students for fire prevention week, those by Sarah Funston and Dustin Farrell made it to the regional level of competition. Although they didn't win at the regional level the two youngsters were commended for their work by fire prevention officer Bob Meads and Mayor Russ Miller last week.

Legion Poppy Fund chairman Harry Brown was happy to present Centennial Public School student Beverley Keane with a certificate and cheque for her first place award for a Remembrance Day poster contest. She won the competition against different areas in the Royal Canadian Legion zone. Seen here with Beverley is her art teacher Jean Horton.

March swims

There will be special swims at the Acton Pool (and the Georgetown pool if it's open by then) during the March Break.

Monday - It's two for one day! Start the week off by swimming with a buddy and pay only half the usual admission price.

Tuesday - We'd like to see your baby pictures, so if you bring one to the pool with you we'll let you in for half price.

Wednesday - We're having a slumber party. If you wear your p.j.'s we have a special treat for you.

Thursday - If you had a good term in school and bring your report card in to prove it, we'll let you in for half price.

Friday - Our special birthday party swim finishes off the week!

Fall Fair grants

Regional councillors approved agricultural grants to 10 organizations in 1985

The Georgetown Agricultural Society is to receive $1,575 and the Acton Agricultural Society $1,500.61. Both groups put on a fall fair which draws people from across the region and neighboring regions.
