

TRICKS ARE FOR KIDS

CVCA wants 1.2% more for projects

By ANI PEDERIAN
Herald Staff
Because Halton region's growth in assessment within the Credit Valley watershed was low, the Credit Valley Conservation Authority is only asking for 1.2 per cent more in funding from what it received in 1984.

That turns out to be $511 more, to make the net request from Halton $42,113.

Under the Conservation Authorities Act, the CVCA's budget is apportioned to municipalities in the watershed, on the basis of assessment.
The region's treasurer Joe Rinaldo said the 1985 special levy for Halton Hills of $47,317 was approved March 9 by the town's budget committee.

The CVCA raises money for capital projects which benefit specific municipalities, from the municipalities.

Halton Hills 1985 special levy covers projects at Armstrong Avenue ($41,850), Eden Place ($2,700), North Halton Golf and Country Club ($967), the Smith property ($450.) and the paper mill dam and channel ($1,350.)

$2,000 peace bond for gun possession

After having a charge of unlawfully being in a residence withdrawn, a Georgetown man was put on a $2,000 peace bond for 12 months to ensure his good behavior.

Brent Ferguson, 21, was found guilty of being in the possession of a weapon without a certificate in Milton Provincial Court Thursday.

On that charge he was fined $400 and ordered not to own a weapon or ammunition for a period of five years.

Mr. Ferguson had borrowed a 12-gauge shotgun from an Acton resident under the pretense he had a certificate for hunting with the weapon.

Before borrowing the shotgun, Mr. Ferguson had allegedly made threats towards his brother indicating he would shoot him, and entered a Georgetown residence where an altercation took place.

Police recovered the shotgun after it had been broken-down into three pieces in a gym bag at the residence of Mr. Ferguson's girlfriend.

Coping with depression

One of the greatest problems arising in families today is learning how to cope with depression.

In recognition of this important subject, Halton Family Services is honoured to have Dr. Brian Butler as the guest speaker for its 31st annual meeting.

His topic is a staff member at the Oakville-Trafalgar Memorial Hospital.

You are invited to attend the 31st annual meeting on March 20, at 8 p.m. in St. John's United Church on the corner of Church and Dunn streets in Oakville.

MONSTER MADNESS

These two youngsters work diligently at completing their monster faces. The Georgetown Library held a monster face drawing session last week, and were transferring the scary faces on to tee-shirts after.
