IN STYLE FOR SPRING

By DOROTHY BRANDFORD
Herald Special

The annual meeting of the Arts and Crafts of Georgetown was held at the home of Anne Allen, 14 Valleyview Road.

The slate of officers for 1985 was presented to the meeting and accepted as follows: president Pat Beer, first vice president Charlotte Ironside, second vice president Peggy Stevens, corresponding secretary Evelyn Charles, recording secretary Peggy Stevens, treasurer Siglinde Knoespel.

Convening committee will be Crafts Jennifer Barnett, Social Jessie Glynn, Publicity Dorothy Brandford, Program Wilma Stull, Auditor Dorothy Brandford.

The group again voted to donate $50 to the Georgetown Agricultural Society, this amount ot be used as prizes for crafts at the annual fall fair. A cheque for $50 will also be sent to the Ontario Guild of Crafts of which the society is a member.

A donation was also made to the Optimists Charity Fund to help defray the cost of their drug abuse day.

A new member, Mrs. Margaret Tost was welcomed to the group and will do weaving for the annual sale. The group was unanimous in its decision to make Mrs. Nellie Beatty of Acton an honorary member in recognition for the many years of support which she has given to the society.

At this meeting the speaker for the day was Margaret Ballinger, who has an extensive business in toy making. Her talk was supported by explanation of tools used, samples of work in process, as well as photos.

Craft speaker recalls 'European 'Passion Play'

The March meeting of the Arts and Crafts of Georgetown was held at the home of Peggy Stevens, RR5, Georgetown.

The craft convenor Jennifer Barnett reported that a course in rug braiding had been completed and had been taught by Elizabeth Shore.

She is still endeavoring to get a teacher for a class in calligraphy.

Plans were made for the annual exhibition and sale, to be held this year on October 19 at the North Halton Golf and Country Club.

Committees were formed for this occasion, decorating Peggy Stevens and Joanna Dobbin, pantry shelf Elizabeth Shore, advertising Pat Beer, sales Siglinde Knoespel, guest artists Charlotte Ironside.

The speaker of the day was Helen Little of Acton, who gave a talk on her trip to Germany along with slides taken at Oberammergau, the site of the passion play. The play was written by a monk and was first enacted in 1634.

With the exception of the war years, it has been repeated once every ten years. The next performance will be in 1990.

Oberammergau is a very small village sixty miles south of Munich. Actors must be native or have lived in the village for at least twenty years.
