

Honors and Recognition night

Town honors athletic, cultural heroes

Provincial cross country team champions from Acton received a hearty thanks and an appreciative handshake from Halton Hills Mayor Russ Miller last Wednesday night.

Members of the Halton Hills Blue Fins pose for their photo while at the Halton Hills Honor and Recognition awards night last week. Members are: Terry Harrison, Eduardo Piqueras, Scott Lightowers, Emily Hamilton, Jenny Williams and Brandy Gillett. Second row: Andrea Crosby, Julie

The Georgetown District High School boys bowling team of Brent Osatchuk, Dave Hicks, Glen Kaiser (front row), Chris Burke (coach) and Jerome Stone pose for their photo. Teammate Phillip Hughes was missing.

The Order of Royal Purple senior girls hockey team was represented with players Lauree Sears, Dianne Taylor, Bill King (manager), Jodi English, Joan Osborne, Pam Anderson and Lisa Allen.

Coach Brian Cosgrove (back) stands with members of his cross-country team. Up front are Bob Donker, Paul Lalonde and Kevin Tanas.

Centennial Middle School's girls volleyball team stand proud for their picture as members (back row) are: coach Jim Atkinson, Tara Burroughs, Jill Lusby, Alex Downey, Shanna Long, Kathy Steadman, Tracey Liburd and coach Jim Hall. Sherri Mann, Sharon Clifford, Kim Welden, Jenny McKenzie and JoAnne Atkinson, are in front.

Otto Jelinek, Minister of Amateur Sport and Fitness, was the guest speaker at the annual town of Halton Hills Honor and Recognition Night last Wednesday. Here, he took time to congratulate two local athletes Sue Masson and Dan Stewart.

Coaches Ray Shier, Mary Shier and Paul Hynds (back row) proudly look on with their Acton girls elementary school cross country athletes. Jennifer Douglas, Janisse Bailey, Karen Pettipher and Becky Boycott (front row).

Members of the Halton Hills Beavers rugby squad were also honored with team members Sandy McKenzie (coach), Scott Martin, John Gray (manager), (back row) Kevin Hoerig, Cam MacIvor and Owen Gray being on hand.

Members of the Georgetown District High School swim team gather for their photo. Members include (front row): Christian Book, Diederik Millenaar, Jonathon Morwick, Stephen MacLeod, Derek Bridge and Christian Wasserman. Middle: Tim Teetzel, Kelly Roe, Ana

Piqueras, Kathy Harris, Jenni Lusby, Debbie Newman, Whitney Greig, Sylvia Piqueras, Andrea Norgate, Sue Masson and John Millington. Back: Rick Waltherson, Dan Stewart, Adam Djuk, Shella MacDonald, Carber Goodlet and Karen Pepper.

Herald staff photos

Coun. Mike Armstrong takes his turn congratulating young athletes.

Pam McGillvray was honored for her prowess as a power lifter. She has entered many national competitions and has done exceedingly well. Here, Coun. Rick Bonnette hands a certificate to her.

Coun. Marilyn Serjeantson presented an award to the Halton Hills Arts Council for their contributions to the arts. On hand to pick up the award were (centre) Ralph Urzel and Pat Beer. Absent from the photo but attending was Gretchen Day.

Ian and Yvonne Oldaker were honored for their contributions to the Georgetown and District High School Music Theatre Club.

Members of the Georgetown District High School midget boys cross country team were honored. Team members included: Jeff Amato, Glenn Mulder, Dave Paul, Stephen Eastwood and Don Cruise.