

DOUBLES

As part of a skipping program sponsored by the Ontario Heart and Stroke Foundation Tracey Whitam and Maraja Mills demonstrate some "double dutch" during Centennial school's open house night last Wednesday. It was also Education Week across Ontario. Program coordinator El Petherick says the skipping ropes are donated and the school holds a Skip-a-Thon in return.

STRONG REPRESENTATION

Peter Pomeroy has a successful nine year record as a town councillor, a mayor, and Chairman of the Region of Halton. He has never refused to debate or avoid issues. In fact he has tackled thorny issues head on. When the Region of Halton had depleted its reserves in 1979 Peter Pomeroy volunteered to chair the finance committee and today the Region has $25 million in reserves.

TAXATION

Peter Pomeroy has an excellent record. Because the Region is strong, the tax increase this year is the lowest in history. The Town of Halton Hills is able to finance its own capital projects, and not borrow outside, keeping that portion of your taxes low. As your M.P.P. Peter will fight for Halton's fair share of tax programs from the government's side.

PARTNERSHIP

Halton-Burlington is in a partnership with Ontario. For ten years this riding has been outside that partnership. Opposition members can only ask questions of government policy and verbalize as to the way "they see it". A member of the government can help to set policy and act on constituents' concerns and get results. Peter Pomeroy is the only choice for effective representation in Halton-Burlington.

ENVIRONMENT

Peter Pomeroy has challenged the manner in which the Ontario Waste Management Corporation are conducting their search for a site to dispose of toxic waste. Peter believes that site hearings must stop. The process must revert to a selection of the method of disposal under the Environmental Assessment Act. This public process will determine whether or not a site is needed, will have full public scrutiny. Peter Pomeroy will work with the citizens' groups to form an effective lobby to make certain that all points are considered, and the valuable citizens' expertise is fully presented. "I oppose the location in the Milton area and am committed to the quality of life we share."

EDUCATION

The BNA Act guarantees a dual education system, both Public and Separate. None of the opposition parties disagrees with the three grade extension of this funding. The Ontario government will implement this funding in a careful, staged manner so that students and teachers are given all considerations, and no one is displaced. The elementary school system in this province is the cornerstone, and the government is committed to strengthening it for the benefit of all.

SKILLS TRAINING

ENTERPRISE ONTARIO has established a new Ministry of Skills Development. There are now 31 training programs, administered by 12 agencies. The new principles will increase job security through skills adaptability, and ensure that programs meet real employment needs for a productive, competitive work force. Co-op education programs will have funding increased 66%. A new budget for University Research funding will provide $30 million over three years.

CHILD CARE

To help ensure that women have equal access to training and employment opportunities, ENTERPRISE ONTARIO will support six major new initiatives at a cost of $22 million over three years. These will help create 7500 new day care spaces, and Halton has been allocated 350 so far. Peter Pomeroy will make sure Halton-Burlington can get the facilities to look after our children and allow their parents to join the work force.

ENTERPRISE ONTARIO

This vast program will focus on improving the health of business, on job creation and job security. Healthy businesses are the key to a healthy economy. ENTERPRISE ONTARIO makes the government take less out of the economy, works in partnership with the private sector, and makes sure that people are treated fairly. Corporate tax will be eliminated for three years for small business, to encourage re-investment in the company, and create jobs.
