

WEDDING WHITES

Welcome Wagon hosted a bridal party Sunday at the John Elliott Theatre. A variety of local shops and services were featured. Here, one model exhibits what some brides may be wearing in the summer for their wedding.

Helping others overseas

Two people from Halton Hills have just become foster parents of Third World children through the Foster Parents Plan of Canada. The two children helped by local residents are Renato Aninon of Cebu, Philippines and Gaber Hafez Mohamed of Old Cairo, Egypt. Michael Power of Georgetown is one of the foster parents. The other resident did not wish to release their name. There are 57,500 Canadians who support children in the Third World as foster parents by small monthly contributions. The money helps the foster child, his family and his community. The objective is to help the family become independent and self-sufficient.

Motivating your potential

Burlington Interagency will hold a workshop titled Motivation Potential and You, presented by Rosalie Wysocki May 15 from 9-4 p.m. The location of the workshop is Halton Centennial Manor, Petit House Auditorium, 185 Ontario Street South in Milton. The cost is $15 for members and students, $17 for non-members. Topics to be covered include personal motivation, professional growth and development and others. For more information call 827-2151.

Midwife speaker

Want to know more about mid-wives? Then join the discussion May 6 at 48 Terry Hill Square in Brampton. The Brampton Birth Alternatives Co-Allition is getting together at 8 p.m. to talk about mid-wifery. For further information, call Sue at 873-1479 or Andrea at 846-2161.

Beaus and Belles

'Recycled teenagers' at it again

Herald Special
Those "recycled teenagers" are at it again. Things were really hopping at the bi-monthly meeting of the Belles and Beaus this week. Our "country cousins" from Acton paid us a visit. They entertained us with one of the best, most spirited programs we have heard in a long time. The choir, resplendent in navy and white, under the capable baton of Gladys Davidson, favored us with many fine selections.

There were solos by Jessie Rodin, Gladys Davidson and Jack Denny. A duet by Isabel MacDonald and Chris Robinson called "The Pensioner" had us rolling in the aisles. Mary Milne, a young sprout in her "80s" gave us a very humorous recitation about "The Old Outhouse" and what slaves we have become to the modern bathroom. Then Jean McLenn favored us with a fine piano solo. After the intermission we were invaded by a group all decked out in their Sunday best. They marched in to the tune of "Marching to Georgia", then proceeded to belt out several of the best of the well known Southern songs. Bert Davidson and Tom Berry put us all to toe-tapping with several lively tunes on the mouth organ, accompanied by the ever popular Parl Hall. Then Bert Davidson (who is a young squirt of 88 years) showed us some fine footwork as he danced a lengthy step dance. The program ended with a revised version of Auld Lang Syne by the choir. Mrs. Edna Besley was the very capable accompanist and arranger of the day. She and her husband Harry used this occasion to celebrate their 54th wedding anniversary. Congratulations!

But I must now take my hat off to the Actionians. They have proven that in this age of "so-called" progress, you can still maintain the charm, comradeship and the joy of the small town community. Come back again soon folks! We really enjoyed your visit.

Ballinafad

Baby Lisa baptized among friends

By WINIFRED SMITH
Herald Correspondent
BALLINAFAD - Fond relatives and friends came to the church service on Sunday making for a large congregation. They came to witness the Baptismal ceremony for baby Lisa Eileen Burt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Burt. Dr. Bandy invited all the children to come up to see, while he christened the little girl, and explained to them the meaning of the service. The junior choir sang an anthem before they went down to Sunday school classes. Mr. Tooby assisted the minister by reading the scripture. This coming Sunday May 5 will be the anniversary Sunday. Rev. Wayne Maddock, chaplain of Sunnybrook Hospital will be the guest speaker. Service will be at the usual time of 11:45. Lunch will be served after church so those visiting may renew acquaintances and enjoy a social time together.

April birthday party

By WINIFRED SMITH
Herald Correspondent
BALLINAFAD - The three area Women's Institutes, Ballinafad, Silverwood and Limehouse joined together to put on the April Birthday Party at Halton Centennial Manor. It was held on Thursday April 25. It was in the afternoon, so besides the guests of honor, many others filled the hall to enjoy the celebration. Special old time music was provided by Eileen and Ernie McEnery, also on the program was community singing shared by the groups participating. Birthday cakes, tarts and other home-made goodies were served. Everyone present enjoyed the afternoon.

Dedication service

By WINIFRED SMITH
Herald Correspondent
BALLINAFAD - Several residents from Ballinafad enjoyed the Dedication Service for the new building for St. Andrew's Church in Georgetown Sunday afternoon. They were pleased to see Rev. Don Stiles with wife Sheila and son Donnie, also Rev. and Mrs. Johnston, two former ministers from the Ballinafad charge.
