NORVAL - Chicken lovers, this is your Saturday to enjoy.
From 4 to 8 p.m. the 18th chicken barbecue at Huttonville Public School is being sponsored by Norval United Church.
The late Mrs. Gwen May convened the first barbecue held on the spacious grounds of Maple Lodge Farm.
Due to uncertain weather conditions, it has been held at Huttonville School for the last five years, where there is both indoor and outdoor accommodation.
Homemade salads, pies and country style music are all there to enjoy with your barbecued chicken.
Advance tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for children. At the gate, adult tickets are $5.50.

Grant money keep libraries operating and youth employed

Since 1976 Halton Hills Public Libraries have received a total of $104,453 from the Province in the form of direct grants under such programs as Wintario, BILD, Experience and the Ontario Youth Corps.

These grants have provided significant additions to the materials, furnishings and equipment for both branches as well as funding for special projects undertaken by the library that also offered employment opportunities for young people in the community.

Two of the largest grants have made it possible for Halton Hills to participate in a unique data sharing automated circulation control system with the Milton and Oakville libraries.

This particular project has been a pioneering and strikingly successful venture in cooperative networking and is being considered a useful model for other Ontario libraries.

The other grants have ranged from assistance in purchasing Canadian materials, multilingual materials and resources for the visually handicapped to the microfilming of local newspapers and the indexing of local history resources.

Over the years several dozen young people have been employed in these and other projects and many of them have gone on to develop careers in related fields.

Many of the grants have required local commitment in the form of matching funds. These funds have always been forthcoming, thanks to the cooperation of Council and the generosity of various local individuals and groups.

Norval
Parade goes on

By KAY WILSON

NORVAL - The rain in May dampened clothes but not the spirit of Norval's Victoria Day parade.
The parade went on, despite the weather.
However, other activities planned for the remainder of Victoria Day have been rescheduled for this Sunday at 5:30 p.m. at the Norval Community Centre.
Everybody's invited to come out for the sports activities, to watch the bed racers, cloggers (dancers) and Iva Davidson's musical group.
There'll be homemade pies and a barbecue, and the grand finale of $1,000 worth of fireworks.
Monday's parade was headed by Halton regional police and dignitaries Pam Sheldon and Hugh McFarlane riding in Hyatt McLure's vintage car.
Eleven prizes were given out by the Norval Women's Institute.

Garbage pickup

Herald Staff
Municipal staff will be undertaking a complete review of present policies concerning the practice of municipal garbage pick-up procedures.

A complete review of policies has not been undertaken since 1979. The present bylaws in effect were enacted by the former town of Acton and the former town of Georgetown.

Municipal staff have recently been approached by taxpayers within the community who believe there is an inconsistency in the service provided to certain areas of the community.

The review would be undertaken only as it relates to urban areas and bylaws which provide legislation for these areas. Final approval is expected by Council next week.

Blasting Glen ice

Blasting ice in the Credit River is going to be a more expensive service for the town next year.

The Ministry of Natural Resources is no longer going to pay 55 per cent of the cost to ice blast when there are ice jamming problems.
Instead, the Credit Valley Conservation Authority is asking for $2,500 from the town for blasting services available on call as needed.

Ice jamming problems are frequent in the Glen Williams, Terra Cotta and Norval communities of Halton Hills each spring. The blasting allows the water to flow and prevents serious flooding.
