Obituary

John L. McClure

John Laughlin McClure, a lifelong resident of Georgetown, passed away in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, on April 27, 1985, after an illness of several months. His sickness was borne very valiantly to the day of his death. John was 63.

He was born December 3, 1921, on the family farm at Lot 17, Concession 10 in the Township of Esquesing. This farm was later incorporated in the Town of Georgetown and is now known as the Delrex Industrial Park.

He was the son of William Albert McClure and Sarah Jane Eccles and attended Chapel Street Public School, and later the old Georgetown High School, where he participated on the school rugby team.

Leaving school at an early age he assisted his family in the operation of their dairy farm.

In 1955, Mr. McClure and his brother purchased their present farm on the 10th Line of Esquesing and he continued to farm there until his illness. He was the great-grandson of James Eccles, the first owner of this land, a pioneer who arrived there from Ballymean, Northern Ireland in the 1830's.

During his young adult years, he was a member of the Norval Junior Farmers, serving as their president in 1948.

At that time he played hockey on their team, which was coached by the Reverend Leonard Self.

He was a member of the Halton-Peel Jersey Cattle Club for several years and in December of last year was honored at their annual dinner meeting when he was made a life member and presented with a plaque. On October 21, 1951, he married Ethel Gertrude Hutchinson, daughter of the late Mae and William Alexander Hutchinson, of Cheltenham. They had a family of four: Mary Jane (McClure) Barrett, B.Sc., R.N., of the "Rockwood" district of Mississauga, William John, Georgetown, Islay Christina (University of Windsor) and Stuart Accles (University of Guelph).

The funeral service was held from the J.S. Jones Funeral Home on April 30 with Reverend Peter Barrow, his minister, of Knox Presbyterian Church, conducting the service.

Pallbearers were: Delbert Arnott, Roy Hensen, Stephen Dalsion, Ronald Kirkwood, Bruce Barrett and Ian Mosely (Toronto).

Honorary Pallbearers were: Hyatt McClure, Elgin Laughlin, Edward

Gowland, James Eccles, John Harris and Cecil Barth.

Flower bearers were: Thomas Dolson, Joseph Chapman, William Millere, Wilfred Kirkwood and Herbert Harris.

Interment followed in Greenwood Cemetery, Georgetown.

Besides his family, he is survived by two sisters, Agnes and Islay of Georgetown. In 1982 he was predeceased by Mary McClure and Eccles McClure of Georgetown.

With his gentlemanly manner, sense of humour and thoughtfulness toward his fellowmen, he has touched the lives of many and will long be remembered by them.

Posters not just for rock fans

If you think posters are only attractive to teenagers showing off their favorite rock or punk star, guess again.

At the Halton Hills Library-Cultural Centre a show opens June 12 on posters.

The history of posters goes back to the beginning of the 19th century when they were used exclusively for announcements.

But with increased economic activity in the Western world, the poster has developed into the glamorous offspring of capitalism and art.

The poster is so much a part of our visual environment that we hardly pay attention to it, yet, if there would suddenly be no posters we would notice at once how much color, invention and sheer visual excitement the poster is adding to our urban landscape.

And what a field for collectors! Since posters have been looked upon in the past as a medium to sell items, they have mostly been discarded.

Posters that announce and sell cultural events have been the first to attract the attention of collectors and are now printed and sold to satisfy a market.

But the commercial and political poster is still largely ignored. This exhibition of posters have been selected from a large private collection.

HALTON HILLS ARTS COUNCIL

An AGM you won't want to miss

By PATH HRETCHKA
Herald Columnist

The Halton Hills Arts Council invites everyone with an interest in the cultural life of this community to attend our Annual General Meeting. The date is June 26, time is 7:30 p.m. and the place, the meeting room of the cultural centre.

On the agenda will be a discussion of the plan to present an arts policy to local council. Thank you to all the groups and individuals who have returned our questionnaires on the subject.

We now know your interests and opinions. To those who never quite got around to filling it out, please do so. To those who were not included in our mailing, but who have an opinion to express, come to the meeting and express it.

Come if you have returned a completed questionnaire. Come if you haven't. Come to show those in positions of power that there are many people in this community who care about the arts and wish to support them.

On a lighter note, you are still able to get tickets for the Summerfest Music Hall, but they are going fast. The number to call is 877-4078. Tickets are $10 each. For this reasonable sum you will receive a light meal, including those terrific meat pies that drew raves last year. You will also be entertained in grand fashion. This year the theme is Holidays.

The cast has been hard at work for some time now polishing their performances. Members of the Globe Productions and Georgetown Little Theatre will be prominent as usual. There will also be guest appearances by the Rhythm Cloggers, baritone Tom Trout and Gloria Monroe.

A five piece orchestra will accompany the musical numbers. Co-directors June Gossling and Marg Eglinton have everything running smoothly.

This is the sixth year for Summerfest. Come on out and be part of what is now a tradition. You even have two chances, as there are performances Friday, June 21 and Saturday, June 22. Doors open at 6 p.m. Come early and get a nice table, have some liquid refreshment and visit with friends. The meal is served at 7 p.m. and 8:15 is Showtime. "What good is sitting alone in your room. Come to the Cabaret."

You are guaranteed an evening of fun and music. If life has you down at the moment come on out and get cheered up.

Irresistible book bargains

Books bargains galore will be available at the annual Halton Hills libraries book sale. The Acton Library sale June 15 starts at 10 a.m. and closes at 4 p.m. June 22 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. the Georgetown Library sale will take place.

A wide variety of adult and children's items will be available at both branches and prices will be hard to resist. Come early for the best selection and bring lots of help to lug away your treasures. Small change is all you will need in the way of money because the most expensive book in the sale will cost no more than 25 cents and back issues of magazines will be available free.

This is a great opportunity to stock up for hassle free summer reading.
