Jasper to Banff Relay race

Track Club places team in top 20

One of the two Georgetown Track Club teams competing in the Jasper to Banff relay finished the 176-mile event in the top 20.

The team took 19 hours and four minutes to complete the course, which gave the squad a 16th place finish in the 123 team field. Georgetown's other entry finished 86th in a time of 22 hours and 25 minutes. Each runner did an average of about 11 miles in the race.

The team members of the 16th place squad included: Bruce McIntyre, Bob Danilek, Drew Markham, Brian Markham, Alex Campbell, Don Koruna, Ib Olsen, Tony Matthews, Paul Burroughs, Sean Cleary, Jim Allen, Adrian Beer, Eric Hopkins, Don Mashinter, Bob Parker, John Grace and Brendan Cleary. The second team was made up of: Charlie Upshall, Joe Cleary, Jimmy Clark, Rod Morrison, Cam Wallbridge, Steve Ward, Ian Halliwell, Mark Duncan, Des Rafferty, Helmut Kron, Keith Hodgins, Joe Bray, Bob Hastin, Melanija Bray, Donna Metcalfe and Albert Andrews.

"It was great," Club member Brian Markham told The Herald. "I think when Melanija Bray yelled 'it was great' once she got on the bus said it all."

A team from Calgary ended up taking home the top prize in the race. In addition to the host of Canadian entries, the race attracted teams from the United States, Japan, Barbados and Peru. In fact, the Peruvians finished third overall in the race.

"Something like this certainly gives you a different perspective on running," Markham added. "Here if you go out fast over the first mile you can settle into a pace. There (out West) if you went out fast you would have heavy oxygen debt. Also the hills there re-define the whole meaning of running hills. They make Norval Hill look flat."

The elevation at the start of the race is 3,500 feet, and increases to around 7,000 along the course of the relay.

This year's event was the second ever for a Georgetown team as last year the Track Club squad finished 36th overall. Markham said with a little bit more training and maybe some shifts in running order, finishing in the top 10 could soon be a reality for the local runners.

Markham also said the selection process for teams entering the race might soon mean more being invited to compete. In years gone by the top 10 automatically received invitations with the remainder of the field being selected by way of a lottery. Now there is talk of the top 10 still being invited, but the race organizers would invite another 10 at their own discretion.

NOTES—There were no serious injuries to any local runners in the race. Some had muscle pulls and foot injuries, but none were of a serious nature.

The CBC television news program The Journal had some footage of the event.

Also The Sports Network (TSN) was filming segments of the race.

The event began on Saturday at noon. Local runners left for Jasper late last week and returned home Sunday night.

Halton Hills native Jeff Inglis (dark jersey) comes out to block on this play as he prepares to move this defensive lineman out of the play. Inglis is busy working out with Toronto Argonauts at the Canadian Football League's team training camp in Guelph. Inglis says everything is working out well with him and his new team. (Herald photo by Dan Ralph)

GUELPH—For Jeff Inglis, happiness is being a Toronto Argonaut.

The veteran offensive tackle said after having been at the Argo training camp for just three weeks, he has found football to be fun again. The Halton Hills native spent the last five years with Calgary Stampeders before being traded to Toronto in April. He was the "future considerations" of the deal that sent Argo quarterback Joe Barnes to Calgary.

After having gone through five training camps in Calgary, Inglis said he has found the Argo camp to be somewhat less demanding physically. The Toronto staff seems to go for quality training rather than quantity.

Inglis said in Calgary practices camp would go for long periods of time, and subsequently the intensity would die down after a while. However with Toronto the practices aren't as long, and higher intensity is maintained for the shorter periods of time.

"I would like to have a camp that's intense with a lot of hitting, but this is really working out well for me. This is a much better situation and I like it a lot."

"Football is fun now. I didn't think it could be like this. Guys are saying, 'look at Rocko, he's smiling'. I'm really happy with it all."

Inglis has been penciled in as the starting tight tackle for Toronto. The Argos made the position open when they traded incumbent John Mallowsky to Hamilton shortly after Inglis' trade was announced.

Inglis played in his first games as an Argo last week in two exhibition contests against Hamilton. The 6'5", 280-pounder played in almost three quarters of the first game, won 24-6 by Toronto at Exhibition Stadium.

"I was pretty good on my pass blocking," he said. "But I think I need a little technique work on the run. It did feel good to put on an Argo uniform."

"In fact, I've saved the program from the first game because it was the first time I had my name listed with Toronto."

The two teams played again Monday in Hamilton.

With Calgary, the Stampeders lacked the offensive punch needed to consistently come up with the big play. Inglis has noticed that's not the case in Toronto.

"We could be struggling for a few plays, but we've got the potential of (quarterback Condredge) Holloway to (receiver Terry) Greer for the big play. If you give him a little time, Holloway can put the ball on the money."

Having spent five years studying the Stampeders plays and offensive formations, Inglis has had to make an adjustment to the Toronto offence.

"Some of the plays here are the same as we had in Calgary, but the calls are different. That though will come with a little bit more studying," he said.

Now a satisfied Inglis is looking forward to the 1985 season.

"I am anxious," he said. "I'm really happy here."

Sports in brief

Angels in tourney
 Halton Hills Herald Angels competed for the first time in the Thomson Newspapers annual slowpitch tournament, and came away with a record of one win, one loss and a tie. The tournament was played this weekend in Simcoe.

Georgetown met Trenton in their first game Saturday, and dropped a 16-4 decision. Glen Williams, Dan Burgin, Dave Rowney and Sandy Campbell had two hits for the Angels.

Later that day the Angels took on Guelph, and came away with a 16-8 win. Burgin and Campbell each had three hits for the Angels while Rowney, Dan Ralph, Steve Foreman, Williams, Lynn Buller, Myles Gilson had two hits each for Georgetown.

In their final game, The Herald came back to tie Woodstock 11-11. The Sentinel-Review team had a 6-0 lead after the first inning, and held an 11-5 edge heading into the final inning of play. Ralph had four hits for Georgetown in the game while Campbell and Robin Bakewell added three hits each.

For their efforts, Georgetown finished in second spot in their division, which was won by Trenton. No final results were available.

Tennis squad wins
 The Gordon Alcott Ladies "A" tennis team defeated Bramalea in Intercounty league play. The locals won the match 3-1.

Glen atoms defeated

The Glen led 7-6 after one inning, but Acton counted five runs in the second for an 11-7 lead. Glen Williams closed the gap 15-13 by the end of the fourth, but that was as close as the team could get.

Shannon Morris had a homer, triple and single for the Glen while Sherie Peacock had a homer and double. Andrea Leeking, Tammy Richards and Michelle Beauveau had homers for Acton. Amy Norman, Andrea Trustrum and Morris scored three runs each for the Glen while Leeking and Richards scored three runs each for Acton.

Blue Jays fly off to ball victory
BLUE JAYS 22
DINGBATS 14
 The Jays really flew in the 3rd and 4th innings, scoring 14 runs in the process. Brenda Cole hit and scored four times while Judy Anderson went 3-for-3 and also scored. Kim Marell foiled a run-down cleverly. Ellen McGowan snagged some fine catches in centre field. The 1st, 2nd and 6th innings went well, but there was no way Dingbats could catch up no matter how hard they tried. Jeannie Brookes and Sue Martin collectively hit and scored.

RED FOXES 20
PURPLE POWER 18
 Foxes won their second win of the year in a closely fought game. Debbie Knoepfl went 4-for-4 scoring three times. Penny Butterworth, Alice Edgar and Sally Humberstone connected well at the plate. Ann Korzak smashed a homer to finish off a good night along with her to other hits. Power's Bev Barrett, Colleen Costello, Joanne Kemper and Ruth-Ann Wilkinson tallied on offence.

GOLDEN GLOVES 11
TURQUOISE TUMBLERS 8
 Despite a big 7th inning rally, Tumblers tumbled to the Gold. Laurie Henson, Diana Tripp, Cindy Hoskins, Donna Harden and Ruby Bidwell hit and scored for the winners. Christine Styles hit a single, then replied with a super homer. A triple by Priscilla Reyce, two doubles by Monica Matalerz and double by Joanne Tucker, Anne Puckering, Brenda Hamilton, Nikki Carney, and Jeanne Wilson sparked the Gloves to the win.

GREY LIGHTNING 8
PINK LADIES 7
 Pink Ladies led the lead up to the 7th when Lori Hofing knocked in the tying run, followed by Sharon Pskysk's hit to score Correen Bouskill for the winning run. Lori King and Pskysk had the hot bats along with Bouskill's great fielding. Betty Flikkema hurled well for the Greys. Pink's Lorraine Tarzwell showed excellent pitching and a good punch down the third base line. Debbie Titus, Mary Kelly and Tarzwell had doubles while Janet Ramsom had a triple. Titus, Jan Withers, Lynn Bartlay and Linda Perkins excelled in the catching department. Perkins also produced a double play at third.

SMURFETTES 31
BURGANDY BULLDOGS 13

Tricky brother combination sparks win

Razzle-dazzle leads DQ to football victory

By DONSCALLEN
 Herald Correspondent
 In Georgetown Men's Flag Football League play this week Dairy Queen hammered Norval 60-0 while North Halton Sports kept up its early season strong play with a 36-21 win over IAS. Other games saw Longhorns dispatch M and M Pro Sports 21-7, Peel County Bandits beat Smoke Shop 35-14 and O'Tooles downed Corrigan 28-18.

NORVAL
 In this game DQ humiliated Norval with an eight touchdown blitz and some nifty razzle-dazzle by Jeff and Gary Lockwood. Jeff received a Norval punt, threw cross field to Gary who took in for the game's first score. Gary added another TD later in the game, which was the result of a pitchout from Jeff. The three Lunn brothers combined for five scores as Ron had three while Randy and Stu had one each. Howie Hulme had the other score to put the game out of reach. Mitch Leblanc had three interceptions for the winners.

NORTH HALTON VS IAS
 North Halton took over top spot in the B Division as a result of the win. North Halton, always a strong defensive team, has been hurt in the past by a lack of scoring punch. With the acquisition of Brad Ferguson, they've taken a big step forward in that department. Ferguson had three majors with Greg Lawr and Ron Woodhams adding the others. Andy Tyrell had a field goal.

Fleet Brian Pembleton had two majors for IAS while Jim Taggart had the other.

PEEL CO. BANDITS VS SMOKE SHOP
 Peel County racked up 21 points in the first quarter, then coasted to the win. Ken Baker scored twice with Rob Arthurs, Keith Peacock and Frank Bruno adding the others.

The Smokers' offence, suffering from the absence of their top pivot had their scoring limited to the third quarter as John Vierra and Werner Mikoleit had the majors. Dave Foster will sit out the next game for initiating a brawl at the end of the game.

O'TOOLES VS CORRIGAN
 With backup quarterback Wayne Stauslis at the helm, O'Tooles proved they could win without strong arm of Rick Baldwin. James Allan pranced to three majors while Linus Stauslis had the other. Corrigan, off to a bad start this year with just one point, kept pace with O'Tooles for three quarters with John Larose, Kevin Harrison and Brent Ferguson scoring. Mike Milton picked off an errant O'Tooles pass.

LONGHORNS VS M AND M PRO SPORTS
 The 'horns rode to victory on three majors (two by Wayne Doell and the other from Rob Allison). M and M broke the shutout with a TD from import receiver Dave Warman in the fourth quarter. James Lindsay (Longhorns) and M and M's Don Scallen exchanged interceptions.
