SECTION B, THE HERALD, Wednesday, June 28, 1985 - Page 1

Downtown has fun with Pioneer Days

Ernie Ellison is one of the well known oldtimers at Pioneer Days. He's been bringing his steam engine downtown every June since 1978. Ready with an axe, Mr. Ellison needs a hearty supply of wood to keep his hungry machine in motion.

The weekend of downtown fun began Thursday evening with a small parade led by (left to right) Lindsay Black, 9, Mayor Russ Miller, Kelly Ballinger, 9, Malcolm Black and Carol Black. The group were sitting in a 1928 Armstrong Bldeley.

She's one cool chick, publicity co-ordinator Margaret Vint. Pioneer Days was a happy event for many who dressed up in rather traditional, if not bizarre costumes.

Lynda Markou pours another draft for the thirsty audience at the McGibbon Hotel watching Pioneer Days performers Gary Poot and Country Syde. Quite a crowd collected before the rain started Saturday.

Some day Meaghan Heather Rafferty will know she is the Youngest Pioneer of 1985. Meaghan was born Thursday at 12:04 p.m. She is the second daughter of Debbie and Desmond Rafferty of 20 Mountainview S.

Downtown street merchants (left to right) Theo Perkins, Margaret Zebedee and Dianne Duchinski were peddling their wares to customers on the sidewalks of Main Street last weekend. For the most part, the weather was perfect for pedestrian traffic lured by the entertainment of Pioneer Days and the shopping bargains.

Now you see me, now you don't. Graham Ovenden, 1, plays hide and seek
