Halton CAS re-organizes

Herald Special
In an effort to improve services to children and their families in all Halton communities, the Family and Community Services Department of the Children's Aid Society has re-organized its structure.

Under the new model, social work teams are specializing in one of the four following areas and providing a regionally based service.

- CHILD ABUSE UNIT - workers will conduct investigations on new and already open cases.
- GENERAL INTAKE - Workers will conduct initial investigation to determine if ongoing service is required
- transferred at 21 days to ongoing service
- CRISIS UNIT - will interview in situations where placement is an issue
- short term intervention (6-8 interviews, 3 months max.)
- provide crisis counselling related to: community linkage, separation, reintegration
- ONGOING SERVICE - will provide agency and community based services to cases opened for on-going service

HELPING OUT

Varian employees were awarded a special honor at a provincial meeting of co-op associations that work with secondary schools. The Georgetown company was singled out for their special efforts in training students on work terms. Students on work terms in 1984-85 were (front row, left to right) Lorna Clark, Shirley Nokes, Marie Fewer and Dan Loucks. Varian employees who attended a GDHS reception for co-op businesses are (left to right, back row) Diane Gillies, Dawn Hunter, Denny Foley, Sharon Archibald and Barb Jackson.

Terra Cotta events

At the Terra Cotta Conservation Area there are games, hikes, bird-watching and film nights to explore.

During Wednesdays, July and August from 2-2:45 p.m. kids between the ages of 6-12 years and their parents can explain the natural world of Terra Cotta through games and activities.

July 4 and 11 anthropologist Gary Crawford will share his most recent discoveries about the original inhabitants of the Terra Cotta Area from 8-9 p.m.

For more information call 451-1615.
