Long-awaited game hype fizzles

By DON SCALLEN
Herald Correspondent

The long-awaited Dairy Queen-O'Toole clash fizzled like a soggy firecracker on Sunday as DQ stomped the three-time Maclaren Cup champs 31-8. In other games Corrigan out-defenced North Halton 16-10 and Norval beat M and M Pro Sports for their first win of the season - a 9-3 barn burner. Regrettably scores for the other two games weren't available.

Dairy Queen

vs O'TOOLE'S

Like so many heavy-weight bouts, this game failed to live up to its advanced billing. GFFL champion O'Toole's was KO'd before the opening bell by a meagre turnout.

The Queen team pounced on a dispirited O'Toole squad for TD per quarter by Stu Lunn, Gary Lockwood, Hal Hulme and Randy Lunn. Jeff Lockwood kicked three points through the uprights to further the DQ cause. Free agent Bob Lockwood, recently signed to a five-year, $25-million contract by DQ, combined with brother Jeff for three interceptions to help stifle a dismal O'Toole attack.

With AWOL QB Rick Baldwin, O'Toole's managed only a single TD by Mark Russell. Mark Dehuek added a two-pointer. Look for a more serious effort from O'Toole's when they clash again with DQ in two weeks.

CORRIGAN vs NORTH HALTON

Something in the chemistry between these two teams consistently results in low scoring games. Both were capable of scoring points - particularly Corrigan - but when they link up, the defences reign supreme.

Corrigan scored all the points it needed on two first-half TDs by Brent Ferguson and Kevin Harrison. Harrison took care of Corrigan's second half scoring with a field goal and single.

North Halton was able to muster three points in the first half on an Andy Tyrell field goal. Second half action saw Bill Fournier grab a six-pointer in a losing cause.

NORVAL vs M and M PRO SPORTS

Even Norval gets to kick sand in M and M's face these days. The Pro Sports hit rock bottom on Sunday and face the threat of relegation to the women's league next season. The lack of a good QB but from a group of stumblebum receivers, could only manage a Bob Dean field goal.

Norval's budding superstar Rob Spiteri handled their prodigious scoring with a TD and two-point QB sack. Pivot Randy Doucette threw a good game, with only his own contingent of greasy fingered receivers preventing more M and M humiliation.

Glen downs Royals with heavy offence

A three-run double by Cheryl MacDonald and home runs from Heather Wallace and Silvana Larose sparked Glen Williams ladies past Georgetown Royals in a ladies fastball league game Thursday night in Glen Williams.

Wednesday night in Hillsburgh, Glen Williams dropped a 5-4 contest that saw the home team score three times in the eighth inning for the win.

Thursday night Cindy Cabet pitched the win, going six full innings. Michelle Miehm came in relief for the save. La-rose scored three runs in the game while Wallace and Jane Caldwell both scored twice.

The Royals started the game in fine fashion, scoring four runs in the first inning.

Glen Williams used midget Lisa Franks in the game, giving her a chance to play the outfield the last two innings. Although she didn't register a hit, manager Stan Lorusso said he was happy with her play.

"She hit the ball hard, and it took good defensive plays to get her out," shehe said.

Wednesday night in Hillsburgh, Glen Williams jumped out to an early 2-0 lead after three innings. However, the home team came back with a pair of runs of their own to tie things up at 2-2.

In the seventh inning Taylor and Larose scored to put the visitors up by two runs again. But in the eighth inning Hillsburgh scored its three runs for the win.

Taylor and Larose had the hot bats for Glen Williams. Taylor went four-for-five while Larose went three-for-five with a pair of runs batted in. Gabet took the loss on the mound.

Pitching, hitting spark Royals to win

Cindy Halonen pitched a five-hitter as Georgetown Royals defeated Orangeville 6-1 Monday night in a ladies fastball league game.

Second baseman Linda McClure provided the hot bat as she had four hits in five plate appearances (all singles). Shortstop Becky Halonen hit a double and also scored a pair of runs for Georgetown. Outfielder Bonnie Penney also chipped in with a pair of singles. First baseman Linda Donais had a double too.

Georgetown scored a run in the first inning, then added single markers in the fifth, sixth and seventh frames before scoring two more in the eighth. Orangeville scored its lone run of the game in the first inning when the first batter Halonen faced singled, and ended up scoring.

Thursday night Georgetown travelled to Glen Williams, but came away on the short end of an 11-7 decision.

Carol Spiteri pitched for Georgetown, giving way to Halonen in the seventh inning.

Georgetown started the game off with an offensive bang, chalking up four runs in the first inning. Third baseman Gloria highlighted the inning for the Royals with a triple. Becky Halonen and Penney both added singles in the rally.

However, the crushing blow for the Royals came in the sixth inning when Glen Williams' Cheryl MacDonald hit a double that brought in three runs that gave Glen Williams an 8-5 advantage. It was an advantage that the Glen team would not relinquish.

McClure had another good night at the plate, knocking out a single and double while scoring three Georgetown runs. Haines finished the game with a pair of triples while Becky Halonen had a pair of singles.

The Royals' schedule has them in Glen Williams Thursday night for another game with the Glen. Monday night the Georgetown team will host Acton at the Fairgrounds, and Tuesday evening the Royals will travel to Eden Mills for a game there.

Mario Galvao sparkles on the mound

Eagles play Oakville tough in loss

Georgetown junior Eagles gave front-running Oakville a good run for its money Saturday, before dropping a 4-2 decision.

The Eagles got a fine pitching performance from Mario Galvao. The team veteran went the distance and allowed five hits while walking three. Galvao also fanned six.

Georgetown only made three errors in the game, but two came back to haunt them as Oakville was able to score three of its runs as a result. Georgetown too was able to take advantage of an Oakville miscue as a throwing error at third gave the locals their first run of the game. The second came when manager Dan Gulstini gave a runner at first the steal sign. The Oakville catcher threw the ball to second, thus allowing the Eagles to send their runner at third in for the run. Wilson and Mike Loritto scored the Georgetown runs.

While not pleased about losing the game, Gulstini said he was happy with the effort his team put forth in the contest.

"This is more the typical kind of baseball we're capable of," he said.

The loss drops the Eagles' record to two wins against 11 losses so far this year in Central Ontario Baseball Association play.

While happy with Galvao's pitching, Gulstini said he is still waiting for the senior players on the team to get their bats swinging once again. Gulstini said if he can get good pitching and sound hitting, the Eagles will be competitive in all games they play.

"When the older guys start to come through with their bats, then we'll improve. But they've got to come through."

"The young guys are getting the hits, and that's why we were able to stay close. I think next year you'll see a lot of improvement from these kids," he said.

The Eagles will have a busy week. Saturday they once again host Oakville at the Fairgrounds. Sunday the team is in Mississauga and Monday night Georgetown travels to West Mountain.
