

Prepare for your future

At convocation ceremonies June 17 at the Oakville Campus of Sheridan College, hundreds of graduates were told to continue preparing for a future of rapid technological change.

Halton Hills fun in the sun

A little further off, but certainly worth the drive is a trip to the quaint towns of Glen Williams or Terra Cotta. Terra Cotta features the Forge Gallery full of artwork as well as other unique shops selling specialty items such as crafts or Tibetan rugs.

If you like museums, the region of Halton has lots to offer. There's the Ontario Agricultural Museum in Milton or the Halton Region's museum at Kelso Park. For information about operating times call 878-8151 for the Agricultural Museum and 878-3232 for the regional museum.

Two conservation areas ripe for a walking tour through nature trails are at Hilton Falls (854-0262) and the Terra Cotta Conservation Authority (451-1615).

Mountsberg Conservation Authority has a number of walking nature trails and a barnload of animals for the young children. In their interpretation centre there are usually films and displays being shown. The number for Mountsberg near Campbellville is 854-2276.

Here are some other ideas if nothing yet has touched your fancy:

—a swim in the Dick Licata pool behind the Georgetown Memorial Arena. Phone 877-5185 for operating hours.

—drive along some of north Halton's beautiful country roads visiting the hamlets of Ballinafad, Limehouse and Norval.

—picnicking in Cedarvale Park.

—bike riding in town, or try biking through a more isolated country road. One suggestion for a hilly but extremely beautiful route is the Tenth Sideroad beginning just outside of Glen Williams.

—a popular spot with friends visiting from Toronto would be a tour of Acton's Hide House and dinner at Jack Tanners located inside the same building.

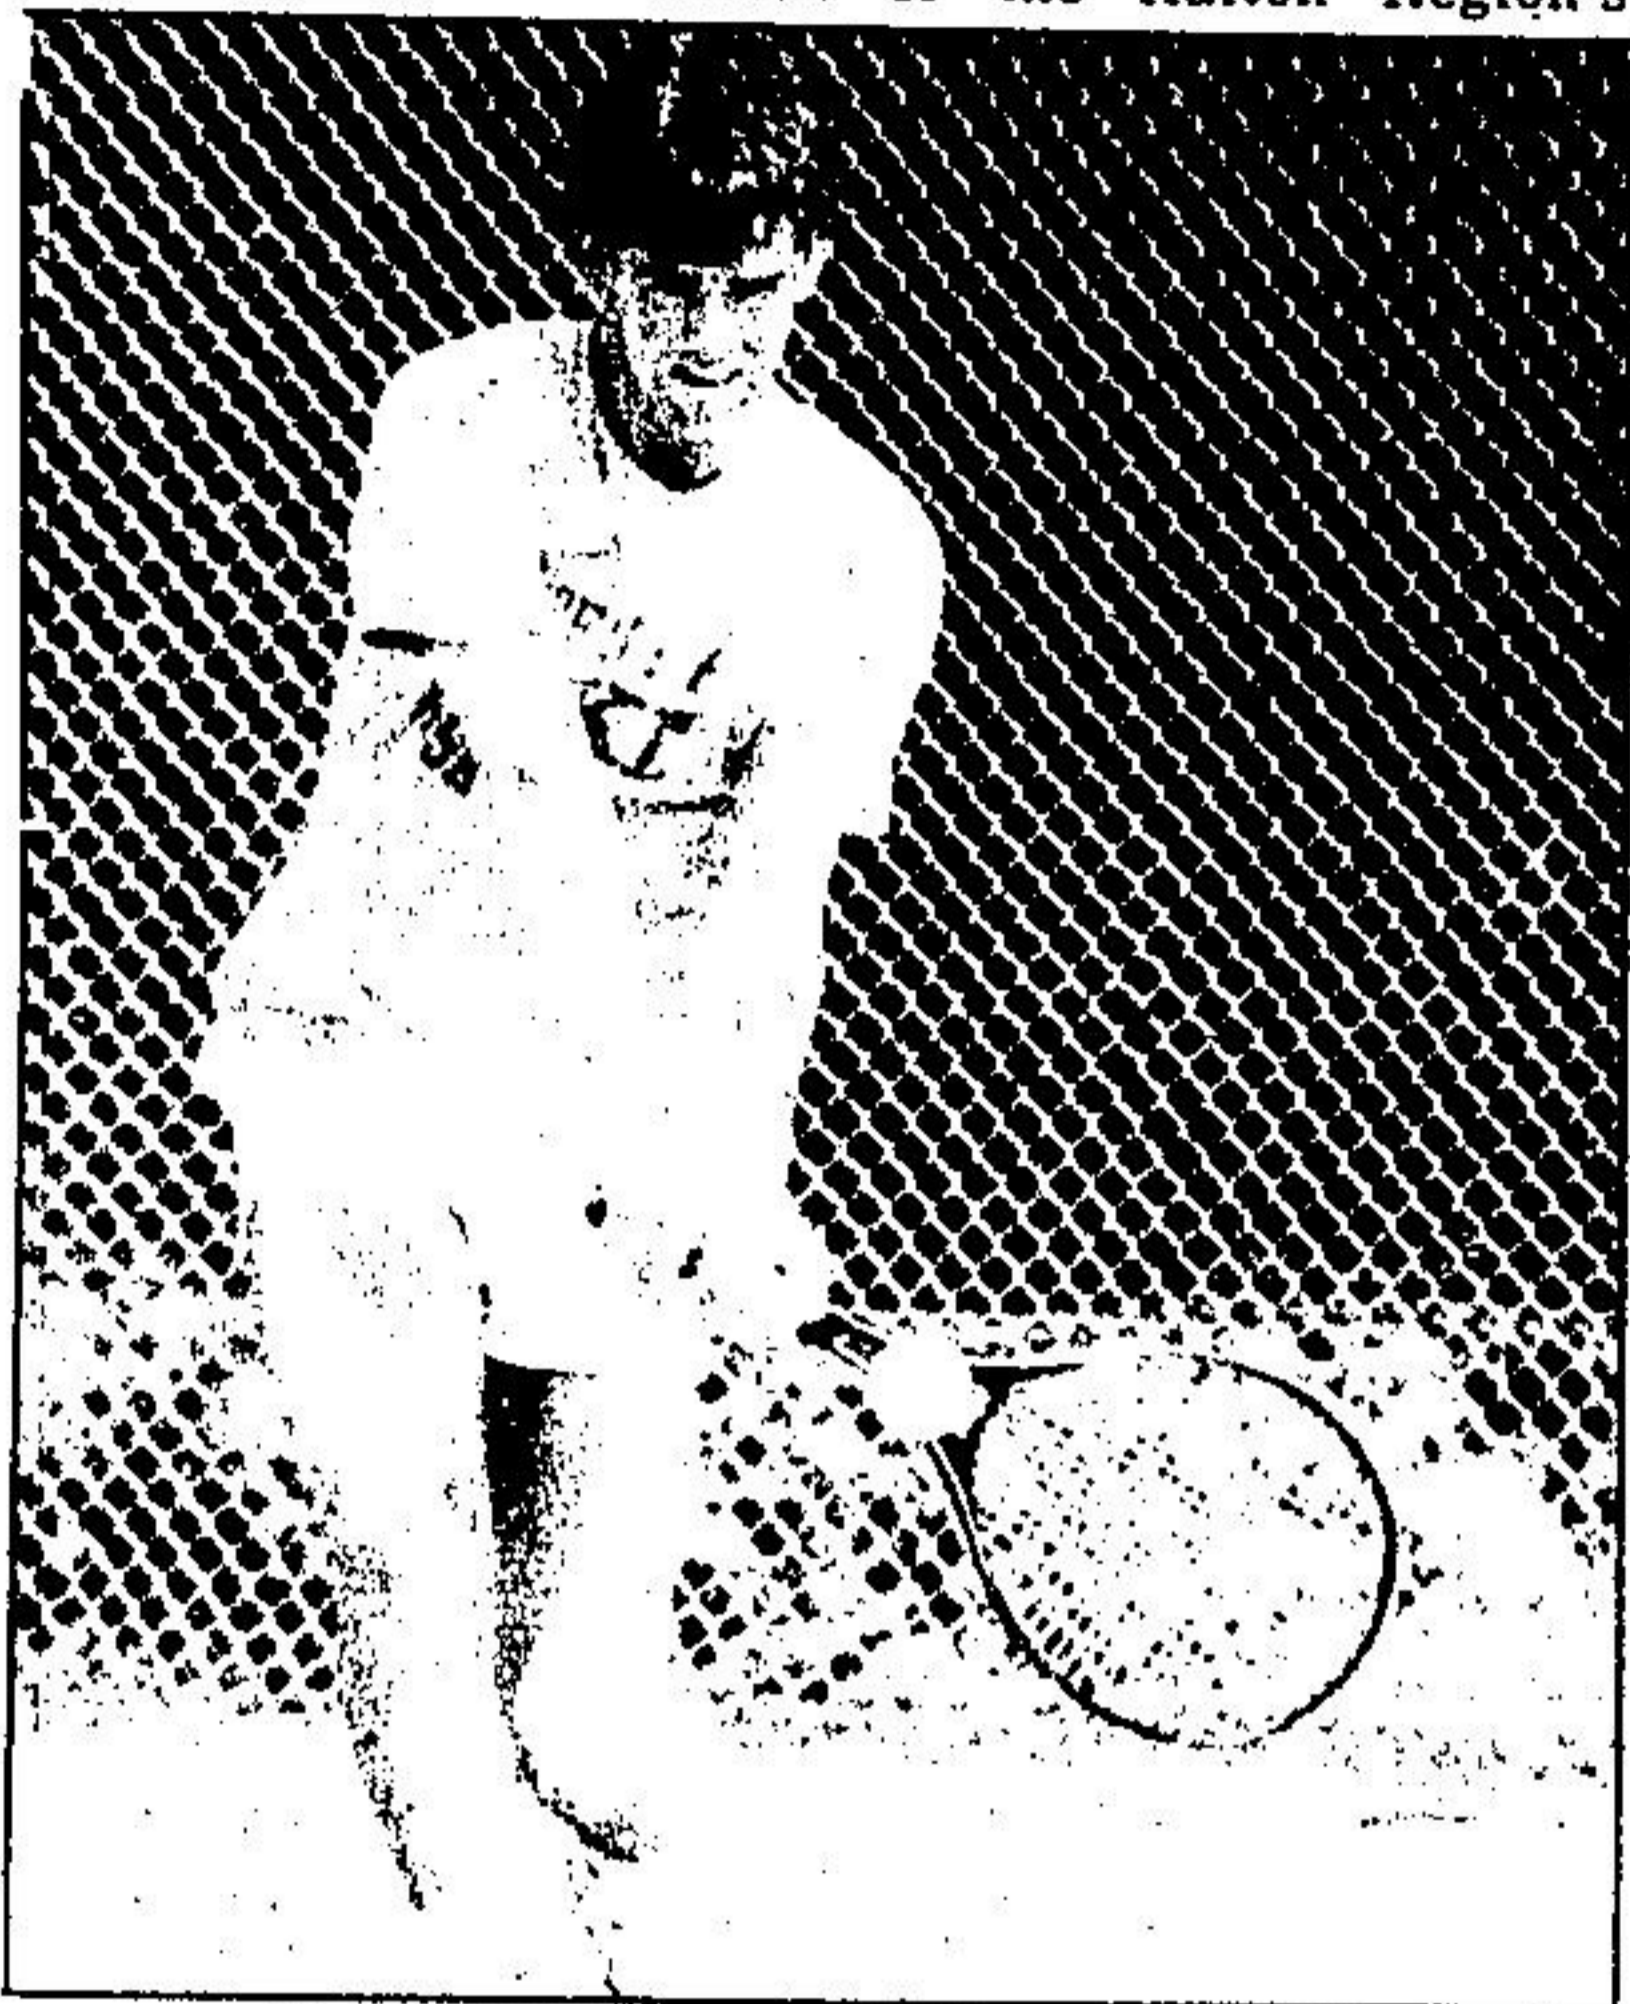

—kite flying is an entertaining sport. All you need is a little wind.

—Scotsdale Farm is a lovely piece of property that is open to the public wander through and enjoy the nature that abounds on the property. Just take Trafalgar Road north from Highway 7 at the Silvercreek Shell station. It's about a mile north of that cut-off.

—if you're a baseball buff, check the Recreation Department (877-5185) and they'll tell you when some of the night games are scheduled. The Glen Specters fastball club play every Tuesday night in Glen Williams while another suggestion is to watch the Georgetown Ladies play Monday nights at the Fairgrounds.

While this isn't a comprehensive list, we've tried to come up with some suggestions for a summer full of adventure. Ask your neighbor for others.

BACKHAND SUCCESS

The tennis courts of Halton Hills will be busy this summer with those athletes and would-be athletes out practising their game. There's a variety of courts with public hours not requiring a club membership. Call the Recreation Department for more information about places and times. Their number 877-5185.

Norval bridge repairs

The Norval bridge crossing and the bridge approach are due for repairs.
