

HALTON HILLS ARTS COUNCIL

By GRETCHEN DAY
Herald Columnist

The second annual Juried Exhibition of Wall Art at the gallery of the Halton Hills Library and Cultural Centre in Georgetown.

Reaction from the public: What's a juried show? What does it mean, 'Here and Now '85'? Why is this show different from the other ones? What makes it so special?

Reaction from the visual artists: Great! A real challenge! I don't like juried shows! The ones selected depend on the personal taste of the judge. Glad to see there is an opportunity for Halton Hills to display its best 'colours'.

In response to the public reaction, a juried show means that the works displayed are considered to be of the very best quality of those submitted. They are selected by a panel of professional artists who through their own high quality work have earned the privilege of judging others' creations.

Here and Now '85 is such a show. The jury will be made up of three professionals who live outside of the area. The judges are Joyce Aster, a fabric artist who has gained notoriety for her hangings created in felt that she has made herself; Rudolf Bikkers, a master printer and painter who runs his own print shop 'Additions Canada' in London and is head of the print department at the Ontario College of Art; and Heather Grindley, a graphic artist and painter whose work is done in a variety of media.

The title Here and Now '85 means that this show is a record of the high standard of work in paintings, wallhangings, drawings, mixed media and original prints completed this year in the area of Halton Hills.

Next Week: A response to the visual artists reaction.

Artistic notes: Wonderful news! Ralph Ursel is well, home from the hospital and already involved in the plans of the Arts Council. Welcome back, Ralph.

Audrey Houston will be the producer of Georgetown Globe Productions' 1986 musical comedy 'L'I Abner', opening at the John Elliott Theatre Jan. 30, 1986.

Audrey is looking for would-be performers of all ages to audition for parts in this fun-filled show. A "sing-through" of L'I Abner will be held at St. Andrew's Church, corner of Mountainview Road and Sinclair Avenue, Georgetown, Sept. 10 and 13 at 8 p.m. Interested persons are invited to attend one of these evenings. Contact Mrs. Houston for an audition appointment at 877-7229.

Applications for the juried show Here and Now '85 to run Oct. 2 to 24 may be picked up at the Halton Hills Library and Cultural Centre, Georgetown. Deadline for submissions is Sept. 21.

Builder trapped

A 17-year-old male was trapped Thursday at 9:40 a.m. when the concrete support wall in the home he was working on fell on top of him. He suffered minor injuries. The home is under repair and excavation, near Highway 7 and the Sixth Line.

NORVAL - Congratulations to Glen Good-fellow and Marinda Bucci who were married in Lowville Anglican Church Saturday.

A presentation party for Glen and Marinda was held in Pinegrove Community Hall Aug. 19. A purse of money was presented to the couple with a few well chosen words by Mac Alexander.

The evening was spent playing euchre, followed by the annual corn roast, hot dogs and coffee.

The committee for the evening was Jenn Brander and Vera Thatcher.

Local girl married

By WINIFRED SMITH
