

Shop now for school

These are just some of the needs. If your student is in a geology program they may need a rock hammer, or if they are a chemistry student lab coats are a necessity. Perhaps a typewriter will be needed or a computer. The costs can mount.

Perhaps your student is the sort who cherishes their new school supplies and also wants to be prepared for any emergency - then you might be buying paper clips, pencil cases, scissors, rulers, hasty notes...

There are some supplies which will be popular with students this year, predicts Marg Tanas. If you want to please your student then look into the following items. Maybe you will want to bring home a fluorescent Hi Lighter as a surprise.

Remember if it is bargains you are looking for shop around. Some stores are going to offer goods at prices lower than they paid for them just to get you into the store to buy all your supplies. Different stores will be offering discounts on different items during the next month. You should be able to get all you need at a good price.

GDHS will feature 5 scheduled dances

By MONIQUE TOBIN
Herald Special

The now empty halls and classrooms of Georgetown District High School will soon be filled, and the new school year will commence, once again.

GDHS is a school with many well-organized clubs, teams, and activities which bring the student body closer together.

Georgetown has a great amount of spirit, and deserves to be congratulated on past success. Because of this it isn't doubtful that we can expect a great year to come.

The calendar of social school activities will include at least five scheduled dances, a semi-formal, the annual Snow Queen and Spring King pageants, and those memorable 'Spirit Weeks', in which any events may take place, all to be organized by this year's student council.

Airband competitions have been popular among students in the past, and can probably be expected again, this year.

This year's drama club will be presenting their version of "Pirates of Penzance", which should prove to be a lot of fun to those who get involved.
