ABOUT THE FUTURE

Gravel leaves region

About 80 per cent of the sand and gravel they dig out of Halton ends up going out of the region.

That's the estimate regional staff calculated using recent aggregate production and shipping data.

Regional planner Rash Mohammed estimates that because of increased construction in Peel region in recent years and a decline in construction in Metro Toronto, a higher proportion of the exported aggregate is now going to Peel than did in 1977.

In 1977, about 33 per cent of the exported sand and gravel was shipped to Metro Toronto and 29 per cent to Peel region.

The average annual revenue from the export of aggregates from 1980 to 1983 is about $20 million for Halton, Mr. Mohammed reports.

Kelly Jane Oversby and Michael Dine were married at Norval's Presbyterian Church July 13. (Photo submitted)

Oversby-Dine wedding

Herald Special

NORVAL - Norval Presbyterian Church was the setting for the marriage of Kelly Jane Oversby and Michael Dine, July 13. Kelly is the daughter of Lucy and Howard Oversby of RRI, Norval, and Michael, the son of Marlene and Gordon Dine, Georgetown.

Rev. Angus Sutherland conducted the ceremony, with the groom's great aunt, sister Kathleen cGovern doing a reading. The music was arranged by Peter Clarke, and performed by Peter Clarke as soloist, piano and guitar, Brent Barkhouse on guitar, and Lise Garrette on chelo and as soloist.

The bride and her father, in top hat and tails, were driven to the church by horse and carriage, led by "outrider" Sam McComb, on the Oversby's thoroughbred mare. The bride was met at the church by her six attendants, Joanne Oversby, sister-in-law, as matron of honour, bridesmaids, Maureen Hodgins, Lisa Bruzas, cousin of the bride, Sandy Hubert, Brenda Percival and Tina Dine, sister of the groom.

The bride's niece Angela and nephew Stephen, acted as flower girl and ring bearer. The girls were attired in silver grey taffeta cocktail length dresses with the bodices and sleeves of peach lace. They wore matching hats, gloves and shoes. Their flowers of peach, grey and white roses, baby's breath, steffanotis and ivy.

The bride, escorted down the aisle by her father, wore a silk "Illusions" gown by Demetrious for Sposa bella, designed and made in New York. Its high neckline, the draped baroque, sleeves and bodice trimmed with alencon lace, all were brought together to reinstate the romantic look of an era from the past.

The semi-cathedral train was further enhanced by the alencon lace along the hemline and train with hand sewn pearls and iridescent sequins. The gown and matching headpiece were featured in "Brides" magazine in Dec-Jan, and Feb-Mar, 1983.

The bride's bouquet was of peach and white roses, steffanotis, ivy and baby's breath. The bridal flowers were designed and made by the bride.

The groom was attended by his father as best man. Ushers Randy Oversby, brother of the bride, Eve Rouselle, Jeff Hubert, Eve Savard, Peter Clarke, Jay Glavish, wore grey tuxedos with a peach rose in each lapel.

After leaving the church in the surrey with a fringe on the top, photos were taken of the wedding party and family on the Oversby lawn. A dinner was served to 190 guests at Eldorado Hall, Brampton, which was decorated with hanging baskets of impatiens and ferns. The dinner was prepared by Chef Robt. Mooring, of the Dr's House and Livery in Kleinburg.
