Smokers at Halton region, beware.

From behind the shield of Halton Medical Officer of Health Graham Pollett "Project smokeless" is advancing.

This month, the group is surveying fellow employees at the region through a questionnaire on the present regional smoking policy.

The region does have a smoking policy, although many employees are unaware of it. It is voluntary, and has no real built-in enforcement. "Project smokeless" is going to see if it should be meatier.

None of the region's municipalities, including Halton Hills, has a smoking policy in the workplace other than Burlington.

Cuboree Oct. 9th

North Halton District Scouters Club held their first meeting of the 1985-'86 season Sept. 18 at the Optmist Hall.

Terry Colter, the chairman, opened the meeting with a welcome and prayer. District Commissioner Sandy Booth had all members re-affirm their promise.

The Milton District Scout Shop now has full franchise to serve all scouting needs, it was announced. Their number is 878-4906.

Members were told of a marquetry course (wood veneer pictures) offered at the Cedarvale Cottage beginning Sept. 26. Call 877-4906.

Brian Stewart was invested as the new Assistant District Commissioner of Scouts.

The guest speaker for the evening was Betty Granger who is the chairman of the provincial advisory committee ladies auxiliary for the Scouts.

Mrs. Granger said that Scout ladies auxiliary are the helping hands that can assist in supervision, hobbies, crafts, uniform exchange, badge examiners and much more.

District president Gary Elliot spoke to the group on his role and focus to the district. It was announced Jean Belshaw is the new provincial representative to the provincial council, Mayor Russ Miller is the honorary president and Rev. Jeff Davison is District Chaplain.

Bryan Osatchuk said the Beaver fall outing would be a trip to the Ontario Science Centre.

Peter Froemmel reported the Cuboree would be Oct. 26, Sixer, Seconder workshop Nov. 2 and craft workshop Nov. 30.

A pioneer and woodsman camp is slated for Nov. 1-3 said Brian Stewart. Scout orienteering is Nov. 9. Apple Day is Sept. 27-28 and Remembrance Day Parade is Nov. 10.

Reports at the library

You won't have to fork out $40 to take a town report home with you for perusal any more.

Councillors will henceforth be stocking up the Halton Hills public libraries with four copies of all major in house or consultant studies for lending purposes.

They'll include four copies of the Halton Hills Official Plan, the recently approved Georgetown Secondary Plans and the town's zoning bylaw among the major documents.

Although there are copies of these materials at the library now, they are there as reference copies and can't be taken out.

Previously, if you wanted to take home these documents for lengthier perusal, you had to buy them from the town, and they weren't cheap purchases.

Town clerk administrator Ken Richardson warned against putting in the library information that may create problems later, indicating the zoning bylaws of the town.

"We should have a covering note that if they want to check further they come to the town office for clarification," Mr. Richardson said.
