"Friends of a feather"

Mountsberg Wildlife Centre is inviting families, bird enthusiasts and nature lovers to a special day called "Friends of a Feather" Oct. 6 from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

The entire day is dedicated to our fine feathered friends and features special guest speakers, such as Katherine McKeever from The Owl Rehabilitation Research Foundation (O.R.R.F.).

The O.R.R.F. is the largest centre on this continent specializing in the rehabilitation of injured owls and the utilization of permanently damaged owls.

Owls or other birds of prey who have been damaged by gun-shoots, poisoning, pole-trapping, collision with cars, airplanes etc. are taken into the rehabilitation centre and assessed for release or to remain in captivity.

The O.R.R.F. began in 1965 and has taken in 1800 owls (and other birds of prey). Mrs. McKeever is the secretary-treasurer of the O.R.R.F.

Other guest speakers include Carol Precious from the African Lion Safari who will demonstrate the technique of falconry with trained falcons; Martin Wernaart from the Mountsberg Wildlife Centre and Dave Brewer, former president of the Ontario Bird Banding Association will be on hand to show how birds are banded.

Farm museum craft fair

Christmas shop at your own leisure this year and join the Ontario Agricultural Museum for its annual "Christmas Craft Fair." Over 40 craftsmen will be represented in the rustic atmosphere of the Museum's Gambrel Barn.

From 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday Oct. 5 and Sun. Oct. 6th, quality items including quilts, toys, pottery, weaving, jewellery, woodcrafts and much more will be available for purchase.

An excellent destination for the entire family, the Ontario Agricultural Museum is located 5 km west of Milton, (from Highway 401, take exit 320B or 312) and is open daily 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. until Oct. 14. Admission is $2.50 for adults, students $1.50, seniors $1.25, children $1 and a family rate of $6. This fee also includes admission to the Craft Fair.

Buildings worth $6.7 million

So far this year, there's been $6.7 million worth of new residential construction underway in town, with 96 building permits out.

In terms of additions, alterations, swimming pools, garages and carports, the town has seen $1.5 million of construction being undertaken to date.

In the commercial sector, there's been $3.4 million worth of new buildings or additions and alterations made to existing buildings.

In the industrial sector, that figure has been $1.4 million to date. The grand total of all this construction work, including institutional and government buildings, agricultural and miscellaneous construction, has been $13.5 million.
