

NEC plans ready to go

The Niagara Escarpment Committee, a recently-formed initiative of the Ontario Heritage Foundation, has launched a co-ordinated program of escarpment land acquisition. The Committee also has a program to promote and support responsible stewardship of escarpment heritage features.

To date, the Committee has recommended a ten-year "priority list of lands suitable for acquisition, 1985-1995" to the Ontario Heritage Foundation's Board of Directors.

The 'priority list' was developed by the Ministry of Natural Resources in consultation with seven escarpment-area conservation authorities. These properties have been identified to complete the 105 parks Niagara Escarpment Parks System.

In addition, the Committee has considered several reports and recommended initial action to negotiate the donation of four key escarpment properties. On Sept. 18, the Ontario Heritage Foundation accepted the donation by the Farmer-Gibson Family, of an important escarpment natural heritage property in Ancaster in the Regional Municipality of Hamilton-Wentworth.

Together with four key agencies, the Niagara Escarpment Committee has been appointed to perform a distinct role in the implementation of the Niagara Escarpment Plan. And they're off to a running start.

Specifically, the seven-member Niagara Escarpment Committee is to administer a $2.5 million Niagara Escarpment Fund and a program for accepting donations of escarpment land.

The fund, which represents part of the Ontario government's ten-year commitment to escarpment land acquisition, is to be used to secure land needed to complete the Niagara Escarpment Parks System and to secure a continuous route for the Bruce Trail.

The Ministry of Natural Resources is the lead agency responsible for coordinating and developing this acquisition list, while the Niagara Escarpment Committee provides funding for acquisition and accepts land donations.

In addition, funds are directed to the promotion and support of responsible stewardship of escarpment heritage features, particularly among private landowners. This component of Plan implementation is directly the responsibility of the Niagara Escarpment Committee.

Members of the Niagara Escarpment Committee were appointed to the Ontario Heritage Foundation by the Lieutenant Governor in Council, and currently are as follows: G.H.U. (Terk) Bayly, Chairman; J. Ivor McMullin, Vice-Chairman; Leo Bruzzese; Russell K. Cooper; Lynne Di Stefano; Robert McNeil and Alex Raeburn.

While three long term members of the Niagara Escarpment Commission serve on the Committee to provide a vital link and continuity in the implementation process, the goals, objectives and mandate for the Niagara Escarpment Committee should not be confused with the mandate outlined for the Niagara Escarpment Commission in 1973.

The Niagara Escarpment Committee is a special-purpose body within the Ontario Heritage Foundation, with a mandate directed toward escarpment land acquisition and heritage protection.

The Niagara Escarpment Commission administers the Development Permit System - a system of land-use control - in addition to monitoring plan implementation in conjunction with the Ministry of Municipal Affairs.

The Niagara Escarpment Committee reports to the Board of Directors of the Ontario Heritage Foundation and is advised by four standing Committees of the Board
