

Novices' streak broken

By RITA DAVIDSON
The Georgetown minor novices "Hockey Moms" had their undefeated streak ended over the weekend. First, in Brampton against a rough team who displayed quick breakouts, and constant forechecking shutting down the "Moms" rally in the second period. The break away skating of Paul Sandifer started the scoring with an unassisted goal inspiring the team to fight back, challenging their opponents with dozens of rushes and near misses.

Concern showed on Brampton's faces when David Kotsos combined with Kevin Lumb to bring the red and black to within one going into the third. Constant checking wore down our defences as the third period belonged entirely to Brampton. The final score was 8-2.
Sunday was the "Moms" first meeting of the season against Oakville but Saturday's shell shocked team was determined to end the unfamiliar losing feeling and came out flying.

Georgetown controlled most of the play. Headmanning the puck into their end challenging the Oakville goalie to make some outstanding saves.
After an early Oakville goal the expert passing of Kotsos, Jeff Hewitt to Marc Boucher tied the score. Oakville again went ahead but the outstanding pressure applied by Tim Diardichuk brought the team within one. Brad

Spears, David Boere, Robbie Monckton were robbed several times by hot Oakville goaltending. The final score was 3-2 Oakville. But all was not lost as parents and fans alike felt Georgetown had displayed some of their usual winning form and will again be on top very soon. Their next league games will be Saturday at noon in Burlington and Sunday at home in Memorial against Ching at 4 p.m.
