The past two weeks the Georgetown Track Club has had its annual general meeting and the awards banquet.

The annual meeting is held to select the new executive and discuss business pertinent to the membership at large. After the elections were held, the new president was Bob Parker. Bob is a long standing member of the Club and is an excellent cross-country skier. He has competed in running marathons and ski marathons as well. Bob now brings his experience to the executive.

The new vice-president is Bruce McIntyre. Although Bruce is a relatively new member to the Club, he is definitely not a novice where running is concerned. Bruce was an exceptionally good high school runner and led off the Club in the Jasper to Banff relay.

The new secretary is Jim Allan. Jim is another new member but also had loads of experience. He ran for Georgetown District High School and is still happy to wear the red, white and blue of the Club.

The new Club treasurer is Bob Daniell. Bob too has a lot of organizational experience in road racing and will bring this to the executive.

The new race director is Joe Bray. Joe will be responsible for organizing club races and keeping track of out of town events and results.

The Club has formed a new branch this year. Tony Matthews will oversee the Cross-Country Ski section. He will organize clinics, instructional sessions and races. This should help maintain interest in fitness during the winter months.

At the banquet Saturday night, about 70 people enjoyed barbecued chicken, movies and a slide presentation. At the awards segment the personal best achievement in the marathon and Club best 10 km results were recognized. Personal best marathons were logged by Keith Hodgins, Joe Bray, Brian Markham and Jim Allan. The best 10 km racers of the year were Allan and Melanjia Bray. Melanjia also finished fifth in the Lite-Times race series this year. An outstanding achievement.

RUNNING SHORTS

Saturday in St. Catharines several Track Club members ran in the "Alfie's Trough" 10 km event. An outstanding result of 35:22 by Alex Campbell to place 23rd.

Friday at 7 p.m. at the Georgetown District High School Tony Matthews will present a clinic on cross-country ski equipment and waxing. Upcoming club events include the Credit Valley Egg Nog Jog on Dec. 15 at Terra Cotta Conservation Area. The 11 km race begins at 10 a.m. and is jointly sponsored by the Credit Valley Conservation Authority and the Georgetown Track Club.

Bantams improving

The A.F. Johnson and Associates Bantam II's played three more league games this week and gave coach Harold Gillmer some things to be pleased about. They had fewer penalties, fewer goals against, and several periods of good hockey.

Glenn Mulder had a three-point night against Milton last Monday, scoring two and assisting on one by Matthew Remedios. David Gardner and Doug Stamp also registered assists. Georgetown was down 3-3, but still in the game with more than 12 minutes left. Unfortunately, Milton netted two more and put the game out of reach. No penalties were called on Georgetown.

Saturday the locals travelled to Orangeville and dropped a closely contested 4-0 game. After falling behind 3-0 in the first, the normally high scoring hosts were held to only one more marker in the next 30 minutes of play thanks to tighter defence and better checking.

Georgetown pressed but could not cash in on their scoring opportunities. Orangeville was assessed eight penalties to the black and white's four.

Sunday the locals hosted Ancaster, the class of the league. The visitors netted two in the first at 4:20 and 3:52 and were held off the scoreboard until 13:52 of the third. Again, good defensive play was evident for most of the game. Two quick powerplay goals some six minutes later and another with :45 seconds left ended Ancaster's scoring plays and Georgetown's hopes.

once again defeat the Hanman Electric "AA" Major Peeewees. Surprise! The locals were ready to show the stuff they are made of.

A strong Flamboro team drew first blood midway through the first stanza. The lead was short lived as 20 seconds later Mark Minich sent Jim English and Andy Pearce in on a two on one break. Pearce beat the blue and gold on a crease pass from English to tie the match. Craig Cooper capitalized on a sleeping defence to sneak in alone and put an accurate wristshot past the Flamboro netminder to put Georgetown up.

Hard passes and fast skating dominated this frame of hockey as well and the locals pulled ahead with a slapshot in from Wes McCauley on the blue line deflected in the net off the thigh of Wade Serjeantson. The locals went up 4-1 as Mike McElroy's wrist shot from the blue line beat the goalie with a bounce as he went down to attempt the save. Flamboro retaliated with a power play marker to close the gap 4-2. Excellent penalty-killing was displayed by Dale McIvnen, Mike Melville, Chad Bailey, David Watts, Bill McDonald, and Serjeantson with Rod Pasma earning the assist on goal number four.

Flamboro turned on the burners in the third period applying pressure on the Georgetown squad and narrowing the locals' lead 4-3 on a power play marker. Home fans were on the edges of their seats for the last minutes of the game as the Hanman squad played shorthanded with no goalie in the opposing net. Pearce, Cooper and Minich effectively closed the door on Flamboro to maintain the lead and cement the 4-3 win. Paul St. Pierre took the local honours in the crease with a fast glove when called upon.

Travelling to Milton Sunday the Hanman crew were downed 3-1 by the host club. 54 penalty minutes were assessed to both clubs - 22 for the locals and 32 to Milton in a poorly officiated fracas. Georgetown's sole goal was notched by McCauley assisted by Melville.

The series of events worked out well as Eyre had planned to sit in the stands due to the number of new faces in the Raiders' lineup. However, he said getting the misconduct wasn't intentional.

"Maybe it inspired them because we outplayed Dundas in every category," he said after. "I think this is a big win, but the manner in which we did it was more important. We worked hard and I can see some awful bright things ahead for this team."

With Eyre relegated to the stands, vice-president of hockey operations Barry Whitworth and head trainer Terry Harlow handled the duties behind the bench.

The Raiders are on the road this week, travelling to Chatham Wednesday and Collingwood Friday. The next home game will be Nov. 29 when Chatham is in town.

NOTES-The Raiders will talk to the OHA about Dundas goalie Scott Walker's throwing of his goalie stick out of the arena. The stick landed outside the playing surface near the Dundas bench, and because the Raiders are liable for injuries, had it hit any fans trouble could have erupted there.

Lewis rink tops field in bonspiel

The Carol Lewis rink took home top honors this weekend in the 11th annual North Halton Ladies Open curling event held at North Halton Golf and Country Club.

Other members of the winning team include vice Marian Smeaton, second Sandra Lovelace and lead Pat Norris.

Donna Blight and her rink of vice Theresa Smith, second Claire Cole and lead Lorna Rintamaki took home second prize. Shirley McDermot and her rink of vice Ellen Burns, second Mary Lou Grenier and lead Leslie Hardcastle were third.

A total of eight teams took part in the bonspiel.

Rebels take first with hoop victory

Never was the saying "a good offence is a good defence" more appropriate than at Thursday's Georgetown-Acton junior girls high school basketball game.

The Rebels held Acton to just seven points in the second half after a 12-12 deadlock in the first half to take a 30-19 decision. The game was played at the Georgetown gym.

The key to the Georgetown win came in the third quarter when the Rebels kept the visitors off the scoreboard and added 10 points of their own. The two teams played fairly even in the final quarter (8-7 Rebels), but the damage had already been done.

The win gave the Rebels top spot in the East Halton's North Division. Although both Georgetown and Acton are tied with identical 12-1 records, the Rebels scored more points in the two games played between the two schools. The Rebels had to win by more than five points as Acton won the first meeting 32-25 in the season opener for both clubs.

The Rebels' defensive game plan was to make Acton's Susan Craig work for her points. In the first game played between the two teams Craig had 25 of her team's 32 points and literally carried the Redmen's offence.

Thursday Rebel coach Moe Leeking had one of his players (Cindy Murnaghan) take Craig man-to-man in order to slow her up a little bit when Craig hot the ball. That way two Rebel defenders (Jenny Melville, Allison Irvine) laying off Craig a bit could react in time to neutralize her. Craig fouled out with 1:23 left to play.

"I told Cindy to get in her way for a step, which would be all Jenny and Allison would need," Leeking said. "We wanted to make her work for the ball."

"But you can't say enough about her. When you wrap up an entire game plan on one player it is out of respect," Leeking said.

As well as Murnaghan played defensively, the Rebel player also hurt Acton offensively as she was the Georgetown high scorer with 12 points. Melville had nine points also.

The Rebels had some extra incentive for the win. Prior to the contest Leeking posted a copy of the Acton Free Press' story on the first meeting of the two teams. That issue the Acton paper ran a headline saying the Redmen "stomped" the Rebels in the five-point win.

"They were a little upset," Leeking said of his team after reading the headline. "They wanted to prove they belonged."

Acton coaches Lyn McLaren and Anne Andrews said the third quarter was the key to the win. That's when Acton lost point guard Margie Parker (fouled out) and forward Monica Parker (leg injury).

"They played a straight man on Sue and had a stuffing type triangle behind that," McLaren said. "All we could get were 12 foot shots and we weren't able to hit."

Georgetown now has a bye in the first round of the playoffs, while Acton hosted the third place squad from the South Tuesday. Georgetown will host the South's second best squad while Acton will be on the road at the South's best remaining club.

Should Georgetown win their game, they will host the Halton championship. If Acton won and Georgetown lost, then the Redmen will host the Halton final, which would be their third consecutive. Acton has won the title the last two years.

"Today was as much a mental victory," Leeking said. "As long as they're in the playoffs, they're the champs but we got a little bit of a confidence builder today."

McLaren stressed he wasn't making excuses for the loss, but added three starters (the two Parkers and Kim Hagen) had the flu and missed school as a result.
