Globe presents Li'l Abner Dogpatch, USA, comes to life

Come to the John Elliott Theatre Friday, Saturday or Sunday and see a different kind of Indian when Georgetown Little Theatre presents "Bungaloosa". It's a musical fantasy. Tickets are available at the John Elliott Theatre box office or by calling 877-3700. Tickets are $3 and there are group rates. Seen here (front to back) are cast members Vicki Courtney, Jackie Hatcher, Jacky Willows and Emma Lewzey. (Herald photo)

Where's the beef? asks hungry tribe called Bungaloosa

By MARGI GIBSON
Herald Special

Treat the children and yourselves to a magic Christmas celebration. Starting this Friday, the Georgetown Little Theatre will be presenting the play Bungaloosa. The show continues Dec. 14, at 7:30 p.m. and Dec. 15 at 1 p.m. and 4 p.m.

This is a hilarious musical comedy farce that will appeal to the entire family.

The Bungaloosa tribe's main concern is food. So what's the beef? The tribesmen do not hunt from the land, but expect meals catered by a chef! Come see what's cooking!

Audiences will be delighted by Chief Thunder Cloud (John Minns), the sinister and funny Medicine Man (Richard Gardin) and his fleshy, comical followers (Greg Hiscock, Derek Remes and Scott Nowlan). Your hearts will go out to Poor Loser (Rod Cook).

Feet will be tapping, hands clapping and voices singing as you join in with the cast's music performed by these lovely maidens: Jackie Willows, Vicki Courtney and Jackie Hatcher.

A magic in the forest unfolds through the story told by Albert Huizenga and delightfully portrayed by Tanya Melykuty and Tricia MacFarlane with Kendryn Hutt performing a beautiful ballet solo, as the spirit of the woods, leaving you spell-bound.

Words, lyrics and music are truly down home as the authors Ron Hill, Charles Crimes and Ralph Ussel at the time of creating this play were all Georgetown residents. Mr. Crimes has since moved.

To totally capture your merriment and imaginations during the play we have Emma Lewzey, Val Utman, Faud Khan and the Bungaloosa's beautiful princess, Laughing Cloud, portrayed by Suzanne Mucci. Tickets are only $3. Call the box office at 877-3700 to make your reservation.

Mousetrap cast wanted

Director Ron Hunt wants cast members for the Georgetown Little Theatre's latest venture entitled Mouse Trap.

There's lots of intrigue in this play written by one of the best mystery writers of the half century. Auditions will be held Dec. 17 and Dec. 18 at 34A Armstrong Ave., Georgetown starting at 8 p.m.

For more information call 877-2321. The play runs Feb. 21 - March 1. New people interested in working in front or behind the scenes are always welcome.

Free skating with Santa

Santa will be visiting the Acton and Georgetown Arenas before Christmas. Dec. 23 Santa will be at the Alcott Arena from 1 - 2:20 p.m. and at the Acton Arena from 2:30 - 3:50 p.m. Dec. 24 Santa is visiting the Alcott Arena from 1 - 2:20 p.m. and will then be heading back to the North Pole to pack up his sleigh for the long night ahead. Be sure to take advantage of the free skating over the holidays. The Acton Rotary Club and the Georgetown Optimist are sending this Christmas gift to you!

Shopping spree

The Georgetown downtown merchants announced six new winners for their shopping spree draw.

Norah Ferrier and Julia Weir of Acton were among the winners who received a $50 gift certificate. The other four, from Georgetown, were: Bonnie Glass, Robert Culp, Patricia Stone and Edith Hackett.

The draw winners were picked Nov. 30.

Earthquake McCoon, Mammy and Pappy Yokum, Marryin' Sam and Moonbeam McSwine are just a few of the citizens of Dogpatch, U.S.A., who will come to life on the stage of the John Elliott Theatre when Globe Productions latest musical show, Li'l Abner, opens on January 30 next.

Tickets are now available from Chris and Maureen Walker at 877-4323.

Li'l Abner is based on the late Al Capp's famous comic strip of the '50s and '60s, when millions eagerly opened their newspapers each day to catch up on the latest adventures of this lovable group of hill-billies, particularly those of the handsome, musclebound hero, Abner Yokum, and his sweet and curvaceous girlfriend, Daisy Mae Scruggs.

Terry Champ, who has led Globe's award-winning chorus twice in recent years, is back as musical director.

Terry Champ Alan Wells

Terry is well-known on the Georgetown musical scene and is delighted to have the opportunity to work with this talented group of singers and musicians, leading them through such lively numbers as Jubilation T. Cornpone, Sadle Hawkins Day, and If I had my Drummers.

As artistic director, the group has secured the services of Alan Wells, who has many years of experience in community theatre, having worked with Globe as stage manager and as a director and performer with the Brampton Musical Society and the Bramalea Little Theatre.

Alan has also designed the set of Li'l Abner and promises to transport the theatregoers back to the mythical town of Dogpatch with one sweep of the John Elliott Theatre's gold drapes. In addition to all these chores, he finds time to be President of the Association of Community Theatres of Central Ontario.

Demand for tickets for this popular show is sure to be heavy and the public is advised to contact 877-4323 to ensure their choice of seat for what promises to be a fun-filled, toe-tapping evening.

Best buddies

Me and my billet! Sandra Pelletier (right) of Kingston pledged that she won't easily forget her billet Andrea Andros of Acton High School. Already the two friends are planning for a trip where Andrea can visit Kingston to see

Sandra. The band members of Queen Elizabeth Collegiate Institute visited their Acton counterparts and put on three performances for the high school and the community. (Herald photo)

Leather artist Rick donates his work

Local artist

Richard L. Berghammer has a new show place for his wildlife leather work. That place is Lloydminster, Saskatchewan, just across the border from Alberta. The Barr Colony Museum there is also the home, until 2010, of 200 paintings by religious painter Van Imhoff. The donation of Mr. Berghammer's 40 originals will be permanent. Lloydminster is where Mr. Berghammer was born. Now, part of him, his work, (worth $500,000), is returning.
