

Make little progress in move to the top

Royals win one of three games

By JAMES ROBILLARD
The Hillsburgh Royals made very little progress in their quest for a first place finish in Central Division Ontario Hockey Association Intermediate "C" play this past week.

game until Exeter iced the win with an empty net goal with just 29 seconds remaining in the contest. Steve Cassar was outstanding in Hillsburgh's goal making 35 saves including four break-aways.

The Royals won just one of three contests, dumping Elora Rocks 7-2 while dropping games 8-6 to Tavistock and 6-3 to Exeter Mohawks.

The Royals next game is Friday night when they travel to Arthur to tangle with the Tigers before returning home Saturday to face Exeter beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Centre. The Royals will be running a booster club upstairs Saturday evening.

Hillsburgh now sits in third place five points behind the front running Mohawks and four points back of Elora.

In Tavistock on Monday Glenn Murray fired a hat trick while Andy Broadbent, Dale Braiden and Chris Peavoy counted singles as the Royals dropped an 8-6 decision.

Saturday in Hillsburgh, Karl Meyer scored twice and added one assist leading Hillsburgh to their 7-2 win over Elora. Broadbent, Braiden, Brian MacKenzie, Rick Scott and Bill Taylor each beat Elora netminder Gary Trimble once to round out the Royals' scoring.

Janet MacKay netted 28 points in a losing cause as Cougars edged Trojans 4-5 in Georgetown Ladies Basketball League play.

Brad Miller turned aside 29 shots in the Royals nets.
The Royals then travelled to Exeter Sunday for an evening encounter with the Mohawks and came out on the short side of a 6-3 score.

In another game Mustangs notched their 10th win of the season by virtue of a 52-45 victory over Capricorns.

Hillsburgh who managed to ice only 11 skaters due to injuries and work commitments could not keep pace with the faster skating Exeter side.

Moms slow off the mark

By RITA DAVIDSON

It has seemed that during this season the Hockey Moms look at the first period of a hockey match as not quite the real game. Very slow to start on Tuesday the young club soon found themselves well behind as Oakville took advantage of our slow reflexes and tallied three goals. Late into the period Paul Sandifer displayed his offensive power and planted Georgetown's first goal. In a hope this would ignite his team Paul led his team into the second and the game became very defensive as Oakville tightened up and the Moms could find no holes in their defence. Scoreless second brought on a tight third with Georgetown coming close but late in the third Oakville deflated the red and black balloon by scoring one last goal as the final was 4-1.

The Hockey Moms ended the week with several practices which should help in the battle for supremacy in the minor novice loop. The Mills family hosted a team party on Saturday evening where children and adults alike had a great time. The party was in part to pick a banner theme for the Montreal tournament parade with all boys on the team designing a banner to help with the ideas. They looked terrific all across the Mills' wall. The parents also discussed travel arrangements and tournament details to prepare for what will be the novice's biggest tournament of the year. The next game for the eight year olds is Thursday evening 6:30 p.m. Memorial against Brampton. Then Sunday 3:45 p.m. in Ching.

MacKay nets 28 in losing cause

Janet MacKay netted 28 points in a losing cause as Cougars edged Trojans 4-5 in Georgetown Ladies Basketball League play.

In another game Mustangs notched their 10th win of the season by virtue of a 52-45 victory over Capricorns.

In the Trojans' loss June Nicholson added 10 points. For the winners Chung Kim had 12 points while Sue Cockburn, Rebecca Caverly both had 10 points and Daiga Zelek had eight points.
In Mustangs' win Anita Stankus had 20 points while Sue Tesar and Kelli Peaker was the winner in the Interpretive category. Katherine Johnson and Joanna Miller finished in second and third spots.

Leah Smeaton won the gold dance class. Jennifer Hoddinott finished second.

Kelli Cotton won the Pre-novice ladies class. Heidi Nixdorf finished in second place.

Katherine Johnson was the top performer in the Bronze solo dance. Leanne Ingls and Joanna Miller finished in second and third place respectively.

Danielle Dembie took home the gold in the Pre-juvenile competition. Yvonne Moore and Angela Lee were the runners-up.

Danyelle Orton finished atop the field in the Pre-juvenile category. Nichole Enge and Leanne Wilkinson finished behind in the standings.

Midgets lose game in second overtime

Although disappointed about losing to Perdue 42-40 in double overtime, Georgetown District High School midget boys basketball coach Moe Leeking put the game in perspective.

"Our shooting stats from the field were 18 of 58," he said. "I'd be concerned if they weren't quality shots but they were high percentage."

"We've got to use this as a character builder. I can see the parts of the puzzle coming together," he said.

The character-building element was that the Rebels were down by six with 2:20 remaining. However, three straight hoops from Tim Racinsky tied the game 38-38 after regulation. The two teams exchanged baskets in the first three minute overtime, and did the same with 38 seconds left in the second period. However, the Rebels couldn't get back for the equalizing hoop. Mark Murnaghan had 14 points while Andreas Schirm had 12 points.

The loss gives the Rebels a 5-3 record, and puts them behind Q.E. Park and Perdue in the standings.

With the exam schedule now in affect, the team doesn't play its next regular season game until the first week of February when it hosts Loyola and T.A. Blakelock. However, the team will play Port Credit in an exhibition game as well as taking part in a tournament at Perdue in the meantime.

Rebels drop to fifth spot with loss

In an effort to get greater intensity in his practices, Georgetown District High School senior boys basketball coach Rick Redshaw will cut his roster by four players.

The move comes after the Rebels dropped their fourth game in a row last week. Wednesday the team lost 48-42 to Perdue to even its record at 4-4 so far this year.

"We'll cut down to 12 (from 16) because we just don't have the intensity in practice," Redshaw said. "We've likely gone from second to fifth now and we can't afford to drop further. The teams we'll be playing are the ones who are close to us."

Mike Hurley led the way offensively for the Rebels with 12 points.

Even with the slump his club is currently in, Redshaw remains optimistic.

"Our moral was really down after the Perdue game," Redshaw said. "But we had a full scrimmage the next night and seemed to get it back."

"I don't mind this. I think we can start to peak now. I'm hoping we can win four of our next five which would be a good peak for the playoffs."

With exams this week, the basketball team is off until February. The first week of the month will see Georgetown hosting Loyola and T.A. Blakelock.

Seniors take home deceiving victory

There are times when final scores aren't indicative of the type of game played. Take the Georgetown District High School senior boys basketball game with Perdue as an example.

The Rebels won 51-48, but most of the Perdue points came late in the game with the Rebels' starters on the bench.

"It was a big three points," coach Bevin Clarke added.

Clarke was pleased with the play of his club, but said his players are capable of better.

"In our first game we shot 72 per cent from the free throw line and haven't been there since," he said. "The boys played well, but still not as well as they can."

No final scorers were available from the game. With the win the Rebels' record stands at three wins against six losses.

On the weekend the Rebels took part in the Midland Marauders tourney in Goderich. The Rebels lost their first game to West Hill of Owen Sound 65-49 before taking Penetang 50-41. In the consolation semi final the Rebels dropped an 81-66 decision to Barrie North. The key was in the second quarter when a Barrie player alone netted 17 points and outscored the entire Rebels team.

Redmen finish in first

The Acton High School track club had a couple of top finishes in a high school meet held at York University this weekend.

Melissa Corson won the midget girls shot put with a throw of 8.44 metres. Also, Angela Dunn won the midget girls long jump with an effort of 4.09 metres.

Other competitors included the four by 200 metre relay team consisting of Shannon Burrell, Dunn, Sabrina Papp and Corson. The team was fourth in their heat in 2:06.63. Darryl Bartlett was fourth in the junior boys 60-metre hurdles in 9:04 and was fifth in the open boys long jump with a jump of 5.82 metres. Bartlett also took part in the 60-metre dash and had a time of 7.45 seconds. Thanh Nguyen took part in the junior boys 60-metre hurdles and finished in a time of 8.22 seconds.

Saturday Acton High School athlete Maria Brillinger took part in the York University invitational meet and was seventh in her 800-metre race in a time of 2:20.0. The meet was also the indoor trials for the Toronto Star Indoor Games.

Chargers take victories

Both basketball teams at Centennial Middle School have come up with North Halton Elementary league wins.

The boys defeated Bookville 45-18 as Trent Cull led the way with 13 points. Adam Poyntz had six.

The girls beat Bookville also, this time by a 20-11 mark as Jeni Arnold had four points and Wendy Pas had five.
