All pumped up

The slow-down of traffic along Guelph Street Feb. 22 has a purpose behind it. Members of the local Drug Abuse Committee are holding their annual toll booth that day, waving drivers into the Penny Gas Bar and the Co-op Gas Bar to give them grab bags which include literature on drug abuse. John Horning of Penny's has pledged to give a penny of every litre of gas he sells between 7 a.m. and 11 p.m. on that day to the Committee. Georgetown Lions Club and Committee members Don Coghlan (left) and Texas Greer (right) will be helping out with the second annual event. (Herald photo)

Division award

After three years as a branch of the St. John Ambulance, Halton Hills finally has its own division. Coll Cousins (left) received the Divisional Charter at the Georgetown Legion Sunday, from Donald Hyland of the Toronto headquarters. Mr. Cousins is chairman of the Halton Hills St. John Ambulance, now called Division 928. As a division the local group will continue to teach first aid and provide assistance at community events, but as an official division Mr. Cousins said. (Herald photo)

Golden girls

Not only are they kissing cousins, but they're practically neighbors and they're both working on their 'golfs'. You might even venture to call them the golden girls. Leah Smeaton (left) of Georgetown is a local figure-skater who is a cousin of Inglewood's downhill skiing sensation Laurie Graham. Miss Graham, 25, just recently posted her second World Cup victory of the season in downhill skiing. Meanwhile, Leah has her gold freeskate and gold dance and is working on her gold figure. Inglewood is located just north of Brampton. This picture was taken of the two cousins at Christmas when Laurie was back in Canada after her Dec. 13 first place finish in Val d'Iscere.
