

The Halton Hills Herald Produced and Printed in Halton Hills By Halton Hills residents For Halton Hills residents

Subdivision Schools avoid 'okay' say Halton re

Councillors recommend bylaw for tenants

Harrison steaming long

The Field

Playing

By SANDY CAMP, Herald Staff

By Dan Ralph, Herald Sports Editor

By George . . .

There were no extended budget cuts staff, a . . .
While plan . . .
To the delight of Hills regional council plan of subdivision South got draft pl Wednesday from th This is really other development Mayor Russ Milleville, Milton and B . . .
It was Halton . . .
Judges . . .
verment . . .
cent incre . . .
hile the in . . .
was almost . . .
nding shorta . . .
board had to . . .
funding, Arlen . . .
of the H . . .
said . . .

NEWS . . .

In 1985, The Herald published more than 6,600 local stories and 2,300 local news pictures as well as sports, politics, social events; if it's news in Halton Hills, it's in The Herald.

ADVERTISING . . .

Reaching more than 14,000 homes and 35,000 readers each week.

In 1985, The Herald published more than 14,000 advertising messages from Halton retailers and readers. A trained, professional advertising staff continues to make The Herald the most effective advertising medium in Halton Hills.

IT'S THE LAW!

SEATBELTS

Winkle Up Safety!

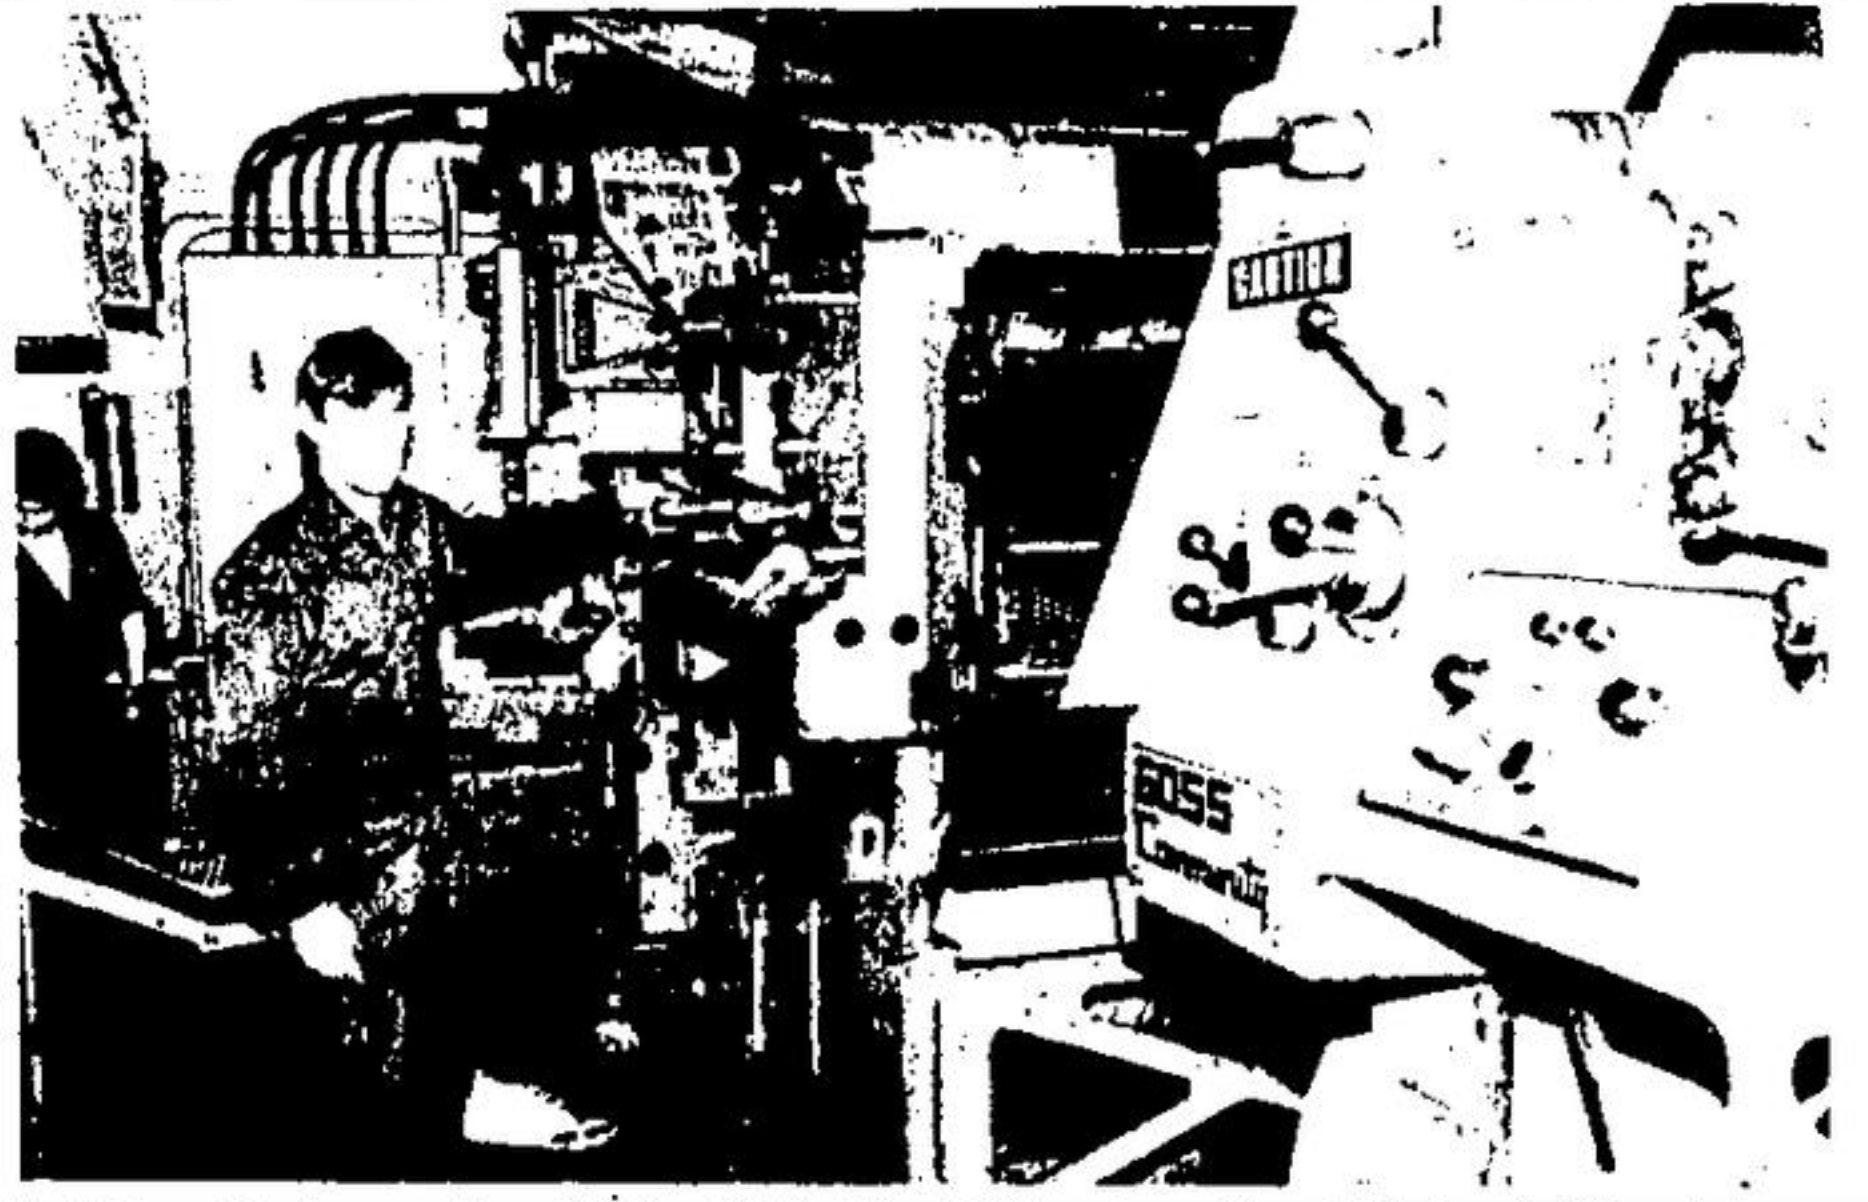

Get Your Machinery Ready for Spring!

NEW TECHNOLOGY BETTER PRICES

NAME FARM SUPPLY

Tags!

- Maintenance service.
- On call for emergencies.
- Expert trouble-shooters.
- Tune-ups and repairs.
- Guaranteed low rates.
- We install parts.

THE BUSINESS . . .

It's all done in the middle of Georgetown.

The Herald is the only newspaper in Halton Hills totally produced and printed in Halton Hills. Each facet of the newspaper industry . . . from news gathering to printing . . . is done in our Guelph Street building. Like all our advertisers, we are a local business supporting, and supported by, other local businesses.

THE PEOPLE . . .

It's people who make the news and people who make up The Herald.

The staff of The Herald has a stake in our community. Our employees live here, work here, play here, spend their money here (our 1985 payroll was more than $375,000) and raise their children here. They're your neighbours. And each week they help to bring The Herald to your door.

the HERALD

Home Newspaper of Halton Hills — Established 1866
45 Guelph St. Georgetown, Ontario 877-2201

Even after 120 years in Halton Hills,
we're news each week!