How hot do you like your chili?

By J.D. HEWITT
Herald Special
The Georgetown Fireflies Camping Club finished off their social events with a successful spring and Hikers Association, the Hungry Hooligans.

May starts off early for the Georgetown Fireflies, as the communicators "Early Bird Campout" at Port Elgin begins the camping season. Then comes the "CFCF Rally" at Ridgeway Fort Erie. The Fireflies will mingle in with 300 or so trailers.

Then comes the "Choo chili cook-off" with the club entering into the chili cooking contest and also running the lawn dart tournament. This is being held at Whitby.

In June, the club goes to Milton for the Mississauga Lamplighters "Chicken-Fest campout". There are a lot of frills when the Fireflies attend the "No-name campout" put on by the 7-11 Hobos at Fergus. Then, the Georgetown Fireflies, the family on wheels who travel almost every weekend, host their "15th Birthday campout" in Acton.

On the Friday night you get your family and unit settled down then go to the hall for hospitality. Saturday morning starts off with breakfast put on by the Fireflies, then it's on to children's games, and family games, horseshoes and lawn darts.

Saturday evening, there is entertainment for all and Sunday morning there is a non-denominational church service followed by the presentation of awards won at games and registration draws, plus coffee and cake and a safe drive home.

If interested in joining the Georgetown Fireflies, just drop a line to the Georgetown Fireflies, Box 133, Georgetown L7G 4T1, or contact our membership committee, Herb and Ev Frederickson at (519) 833-2228. See you all on the road at one time or another.

Scouts under canvas at Woodlands camp

By Jean Layman
Herald Special
Sleeping bags and a bit of canvas were the only protection from the elements for Scouts and their Leaders last weekend.

Don McLaughlin, Jim Auger and Doug Andrews supervised their Scout pack from 3rd Acton at Woodland Trails Camp.

This camp provides new boys with the knowledge of Scouting skills. The boys were divided into three patrols:

Moose patrol, led by Derek Pollit of Georgetown, Wolf patrol, led by Steve Atherly, also of Georgetown and the Falcon patrol, led by Todd Deforest of Acton.

The challenge had points for almost everything including attendance, uniform grease pit area, fuel storage, menu, clean-up, chili competition, camp gadgets, personal gear and many others.

Some of the highlights were the camp gadgets, log chopping competition, compass course and the campfire, with songs and skits Saturday night.

The Falcon patrol, under the leadership of Todd Deforest won the trophy for the most points. The other two patrols were very close.
