Ace Mark Curtis puts in extra work

Former Glen Williams Specters pitcher Mark Curtis was in a Hornby ReMax uniform this week, but that doesn't mean he's through in Burlington.

player can play in three games up to June 15 before he must sign a card. Curtis has started one game in the OFL for Burlington, a 2-0 defeat at the hands of Newmarket. Curtis has also pitched some relief. Burlington is 1-2 so far, with two games having been suspended due to the league curfew rule. This weekend Curtis and Burlington played in a tournament in Burlington, and made it to the final.

Paul MacDonald took the loss for Acton, going six full innings before Roy Spear came in relief in the seventh. MacDonald allowed two hits and fanned eight while Spear gave up one hit and fanned five.

Don Martin went the distance for the winners, allowing three hits while fanning 11.

Curtis is still pitching with the Ontario Fastball League team in Burlington, but is hoping to get in a little extra work with the ReMax club. Curtis was in uniform Tuesday night in Hornby's 4-1 win over Acton in Hornby. He didn't play because his name wasn't on the game sheet. But Curtis pitched in the Hornby team's Wednesday win over Rockwood. The league constitution states a

"I think that can be chalked up to this being the first of the year, a lack of work, practice time and new ball players," Marshall said. "I'm not too worried yet. It's still early." The A's will be in Rockwood tonight, then travel to Orangeville Thursday night. Acton will be home Monday night to a yet undetermined opponent.
