

COUNTRY SOUNDS

It's appropriate to entertain your guests with country and western music when it's Pioneer Days in Georgetown. Last year Gary Pool and Country Syde band played to the crowds and they will be back again this year. The two fellows seen above are from two years ago when the Jeff Barry band were in the downtown. For the older folk to enjoy, Iva Davidson and the Ivatones will play daily on Main Street. Other performers include the Girls Pipe Band, the Centennial Alumni Choir and Neil Cotton and the Racqueeters. (Herald file photo)
