Finalists decided

MONDAY
ANGELS 28 - REDS 28
The Casselman Fuel Angels and the Bumper to Bumper Reds played to an exciting, action packed, tie on Monday night as players, coaches and parents gave it their all. Great fielding by Chris Ranson and Scott Ellis as well as booming hits by Brad Denmore and Michael Kitchen led the angels while powerful hits by Darren Mansfield, Michael Richardson, Glen Wood and Andrew Terrell had the Reds fans on their feet. Congratulations is in order for all those involved with these two teams on their improvement made during the course of this season. A very special thanks goes out to the Reds coaches, Gord Swanson, Kim Swanson and Andrea Miersma for their most valuable time and efforts put into the development of these young ball players. The Angel coaches, Gord Williams and Rick Shail have to be commended as well for their contribution in the development of their players and for making T-ball an enjoyable, learning, experience.

WEDNESDAY
ANGELS 27 - ASTROS 21
The McEachern Steering Specialties Rangers and The Royal Canadian Legion Astros both had their heavy hitters out Monday night but the Rangers defense play, notched them another two points in the round robin playoff. Neck and neck to the final inning, the two teams treated their fans to a spectacle. The Angels strength at bat came from Lisa McDonald with three home runs, Mark Fedshychyn with one home run and Nicholas Ritchie with a valuable triple. The entire Angels team must be commended for their excellent job in fielding the ball. The Astros demonstrated the same kind of precision hitting with credits going to Shane Slater, for two triples, and Mathew McMullen, Jason Armstrong and Ashley Monckton for a triple a piece. Astro fielding was also very sharp and kept the game in check. THE WONDER OF TECHNOLOGY in the past few years SCUBA tanks have come a long way. Today the tanks come equipped with an air vest attached to the apparatus, as Joe Letts shows here. Letts will be instructing yet another diving course this Fall, Winter and Spring at the Georgetown Indoor Pool. Interested people are asked to call 877-1074 for further details. (Herald photo)

Diving courses gaining popularity

It appears the sport of SCUBA diving is gaining in popularity in Halton Hills.

Joe Letts has seen enrolment in his instruction course increase to a point where now he has had to turn away some people for the upcoming Fall season. It's a situation Letts is happy to be in.

"I'm very pleased to see it going," Letts said. "Everything has its safety quirks but you can remove 99 per cent of the quirks with education and knowing your limitations. It's when you start pushing past where you should be that the risk curve goes up. I've spent over 3,000 hours underwater with no more incidents."

This Fall (starting next month at the Georgetown indoor pool) Letts will have two sessions which are filled with the 12 needed students. In all Letts is hoping to offer a total of six sessions by this time next year (two in Winter and two in Spring), which is up from the one offered last year and two offered two years ago.

Letts contributes the rise in SCUBA (Self Contained Underwater Breathing Apparatus) diving popularity here to a combination of factors. First of all his advertising campaign was presented in more of a professional manner and secondly people are seeing the physical fitness benefits of diving, and that it's an activity invariably the whole family can get involved with.

"Diving is an activity that is so easy to become a family activity," Letts said.

Letts' course offers students the basics needed in the sport. In addition to classroom time where theory and audio-visual material is presented, students spend time in the pool practising what they've learned in class. Letts teaches an eight-week Association of Canada Underwater Council program which also includes three open water dives before students become certified.

Letts too has increased his equipment availability to students since the course's inception. Now each student has his/her own tanks and regulators to use while in the pool. In the past, a pair had to share the equipment.

Letts has also managed to form a club last year made up of about 12 local diving enthusiasts who have come up through the ranks of previous Letts' diving courses. The club goes out on dives in the area, and observe wrecks. This year the club went to Tobermory and took part in a couple of deep dives (130-150 feet) and observed the wrecks of The Arabia and The Forest City.

All course graduates automatically become Club members, and can save money in terms of renting equipment. It would cost a person about $200-$250 to outfit himself in decent diving gear. However, club members can rent equipment for $35 a weekend and the equipment is checked and maintained by the Club.

In addition to building a strong local club, Letts would like to offer snorkel diving to youth groups around town. He said the snorkel program can be implemented for Cubs, Brownies and even the handicapped.

"I think it could fit into a rehabilitation sort of program," Letts said. "If a handicapped person needs something of a challenge this would be uncomplicated enough to provide that challenge to keep him motivated."

"Eventually I'd like to see a club that's a strong club," Letts continued. "I'd like to get a club that's always doing something so the community knows it's there."

If anyone wishes more information on either upcoming courses, or joining the diving club, call Letts at 877-1074.

H and H Video learned a lesson on Sunday - Never underestimate the opposition. Toy Magic was up for this game as they recovered their own kickoff on the first play of the game. With great precision they marched into the end zone on a major by Natalie Pacheco. H and H answered back with a TD pass to Debbie Dwyer. Magic would not give up as they hit Kelly Cunningham for 6. Toy Magic lead 12-6 at the half.

The third quarter was a defensive struggle. The fourth quarter, however, opened with a blast as Monica (the Throw) Mastalerz threw a bomb to Julie Fournier for 6. Janet Poitier booted the single to give H and H the one point lead.

Corrigan held North Halton Sports to just 14 points. The Sports defence played well as Lori Sargent and Brenda Hamilton each grabbed a pair of interceptions. Linda Donais and Kim Duncan each had TD's and Cathy Milne had the 2pt. convert.

Poppy's had a tough loss as Marg Wallinga ran for 2 touchdowns only to be called back on penalties. Poppy's managed to score one TD from Christine Arbie while Marg Wallinga grabbed an interception. Herminia Henderson and Sherri Diegel had majors for JV Jets. Linda Ferguson kicked a spectacular field goal and a single. Janet McKay intercepted an errant Poppy's pass.

The Chiropractor Group continued to outscore their opponents while their defence held the other team to just 6 points on a major by Lynn Terashita. The first half saw Denean Jones and Pam Turner each scored majors while Cathy Dobson grabbed the 2 pt. convert. The 4th quarter was dominated by the Group as Cheryl Thompson and Denean Jones pulled in TD passes. Michele Miehmm had 2 - two point converts. Denean Jones and Cheryl Thompson each intercepted a Bandits pass.

GAME STARS: Monica Mastalerz (H and H), Natalie Pacheco (TM), Lisa Allen (CG), Janine Larose (C), North Halton Sports Team, Sylvie Washbourne (PCB), Carole Johnston (P), Bev Vickery (MS), Lisa Burke and Deb Barber (JV).
