

Help your local high school salute 100 years

Support the Georgetown District High School reunion committee plan for the July 3 celebration. The committee needs help with volunteers to help sell ads and pick up sales during the day. Also needed are old pictures for the centennial yearbook. Contributors are welcome who want to contribute and ad for the centennial yearbook.

Want to thank a school for all those golden memories? The Georgetown District High School reunion committee needs help putting together a centennial yearbook.

Volunteers are desperately required to help sell and pick-up ads for the 250 page yearbook. People with time to spare during the day, such as seniors or shift workers are ideal candidates, said Bill McKeown. Mr. McKeown is the chairman of the centennial reunion yearbook fund-raising committee.

If anyone is interested in having their name in the advertising section of the yearbook for $10, contact Bill McKeown at 877-5108 or Dave Kentner at 877-1113.

The yearbook committee is still looking for contributions from former students who have tidbits of information from their school's past. Submissions can be sent to teacher Tom Ramautarsing at the Georgetown District High School at 877-6966.

The hardcover yearbook covers 100 years of memories at the Georgetown high school. There will be about 50 pages of advertising included in the yearbook.

If you think you can help, call Mr. McKeown or attend the next meeting Nov. 4 at 9 p.m. at the Georgetown District High School library.

Members of the fund-raising committee are:

Bill McKeown, Finn Poulstrup, Norma Frost, Linda Moore, Tom Marshall, Doreen Sheppard, Eleanor McKeown, Dave Kentner, Joanne Arnold, Gloria Sinclair, Andrea Van de Valk, Janice Voegeli, Wayne Pries.
