GHHC will honor King

The Georgetown Hockey Heritage Council (GHHC) will implement some form of recognition to keep the memory of King Clancy alive in Halton Hills.

GHHC president Dave Kentner said last week something will be done. But Kentner said as to exactly what form of recognition the GHHC takes won't be decided until its January meeting.

"Many things can be done," Kentner said. "Every year at the Heritage dinner there's a moment set aside when respects are paid to those hockey people who are no longer with us and this year King will be recognized. King Clancy though will always be at our dinners in some way, shape or form."

Kentner added if anyone has ideas on what type of recognition the GHHC can provide he'd be anxious to hear them.

Clancy was a well-known figure in Georgetown, mostly due to his presence at the past seven Heritage award dinners. Clancy passed away Nov. 10 after going into the hospital the prior weekend to have his gall bladder removed.

Novices take wins

The Casselman Fuels "AA" Minor Novices scored two wins on the weekend - 2-0 at Chingoussouy and then beat Burlington 5-0 in Georgetown.

This was the second time the teams had played each other this season and there has been a lot of improvement in the opposition the Fuels have in their league. The Chingoussouy had a noteworthy game as he managed to keep the score down. It was well into the second period before Peter Mashinter scored with assists from Robert Walsh and Nathan Milne. Milne set up the second goal that was scored by Curtis Carr.

Robert Walsh was the hot shooter in the Burlington game with three goals - one unassisted with Ryan Taylor collecting assists on the other two. Gary McNeven scored from Peter Mashinter and then Mashinter scored with assists by Jaimie Briggs and Chris Corney.

Although the team record is now 12-2-1, coaches Gary Evans and Bob Craig want to get some practice time to work on a few things the boys can do to keep ahead of the other teams.

Royals win pair

By JAMES ROBILLOARD

The Hillsburgh Royals won two Ontario Hockey Association Southern Senior "B" games last week giving the club five wins and four losses in nine outings good for third place in the league standings.

Thursday in Palmerston the Royals saw Palmerston build a 7-1 lead midway through the second period before exploding for six straight goals to tie the score at 7-7.

Craig Ritt fired the first four goals for Palmerston and then added another later in the game as Palmerston looked in total control of things. But John Barnes' hat-trick, Andy Broadbent's pair of goals and singles by Mark Hamilton and Brian MacKenzie eventually tied the score with 13 minutes left in the game.

Palmerston's Tom Ralston put the 81's back into a short-lived lead before MacKenzie connected for two more markers giving Hillsburgh the victory.

Brad Miller who replaced Steve Hunter in the Royals goal was outstanding allowing just one goal in the second half of the game making 15 saves.

Friday at home Hillsburgh paced by Andy Broadbent's two goals and one assist edged New Hamburg Towers 6-5. The Royals who led 2-0 and 2-1 after the first and second periods respectively also received goals from John Barnes, Brian MacKenzie, Steve Bronzowski and George Osborne.

Joe Scherer collected one goal and two assists for New Hamburg.

Hillsburgh plays host to Harriston Friday Nov. 21 at 8:30 before travelling to New Hamburg to face off with Towers at 1:30 Sunday.
