member Bill Carney. The money will be used for purchasing necessary equipment at the Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital. Each year, the Colonel Harland Sanders Charitable Organization sends money back to the franchise for local charities.

Norval ladies send cheque to Good Neighbors

By KAY WILSON
Herald Special
NORVAL-NORVAL Women's Institute met at the home of Jean May, Dec. 4, at 8 p.m. for their Christmas meeting. Business included: remembering three shut-in members, a $100 cheque sent to Good Neighbors in Georgetown and a donation made in memory of Carrie Graham to the Erland Lee Home.

Members were shocked to learn of the tragic death of Willa Shortill who died suddenly in a car accident. Willa was one of three guests who spoke to us at our November meeting. Sympathy is extended to her husband and family.

President Norine Van Leeuwen reported on the Guelph area convention. She said $966 was given to the tornado fund. Reports were heard from the Halton Women's Institute 80th anniversary as well as the Brampton West Women's Institute 50th anniversary.

Marie Murray reported on a public relations meeting at Nassagaweya Women's Institute meeting, when it was suggested institutes should have one special section in the weekly papers where their meetings would be reported.

Roll call was answered by naming your favorite recipe. One member reported her carrot pudding kept her family coming home for more. Yet another said her lemon sauce, finished off her carrot pudding just right.

Then there was the member who made a new cookie recipe which turned out so hard they threw it out to the squirrels. Even the squirrels batted the cookies away.

Our special guests, Doris Sharpe and her sister Glen Laidlaw sang songs and duets of beautiful Christmas carols, accompanied on the organ by Doris. The first part was interspersed with reading of the scriptures from the Christmas stories: Born in Bethlehem and The Three Wise Men were read by Dorothy McLean and Kay Wilson. An exchange of gifts followed. A token of appreciation was presented to our guests. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Eunice Wilson, Marie Murray and Ethel Webb.

Shutter bugs start snapping

Photographers had better hurry over to their favorite place and snap off a few rolls.

It won't be long until the annual photo art contest deadline. Shutterbugs have until Feb. 14 to submit their entries for judging.

Land division fees

The 1987 fees for applications to the Region's Land Division Committee have been set by Halton Council.

Last week, councillors approved a fee of $285 for processing applications to the decision stage. It must be paid when an application is made.

For processing from the decision stage to certification of the deed (final consent) Halton is $12. That's to be paid when the final consent is issued.

These fees help cover the cost of running the Regional committee. The Land Division Committee is to be self supporting, and not to add to the public tax bill.

UNICEF cards

Four Canadian artists are featured in this year's selection of UNICEF Christmas Cards. The artists receive no royalties for the work they do, says Georgetown and District Y secretary Cathy Oomen.

The cards are now on sale at the Georgetown Y office on Mountainview Road at Sinclair Avenue. There are humorous cards, religious assortments and a new Inuit artist has also contributed this year, Mrs. Oomen said.

For more information and office hours, phone 877-6163.

The jury this year consists of Gary Scott Breithaupt of Toronto, Tony Mihok of Oakville and Kevin Mulligan of Brampton.

All selected photographs will be exhibited at the gallery of the Halton Hills Library-Cultural Centre from March 4-29. Awards will be handed out to the best photographers.

Entry forms can be picked up at the Georgetown library, Oxbow Books, Halton Camera Exchange and House Sol.

Contest rules are available on the entry forms, but here are some of the things photographers must do to enter.

You must be a resident of Halton Hills to participate. Each participant can hand in as many as six photographs and not less than four. A handling fee of $1 per photo will be charged. The photos must not be smaller than 5"x7" and not larger than 16"x20".

The pictures must not be framed, but should be mounted on white board with a 3" margin around the photograph. Color and black and white photographs will be accepted, but not polaroid photographs.

Without a receipt from the Halton Hills Library-Cultural Centre, no responsibility is taken for lost or damaged entries.

Christmas Ball raises funding for hospital

The Georgetown District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary held its sixth and final fundraising event of the year Friday night.

The Christmas Ball held at Holy Cross auditorium was specially decorated in red and white. Round tables were adorned in red tablecloths and lovely centrepieces.

Though attendance was not as high as in other years, Auxiliary President Brenda Beaumont felt the evening was one of the best. Hospital Auxiliary staff cooked a roast beef meal and disc jockey Dave Smallwood provided the music.

Attending the evening were board members, doctors, hospital staff and hospital supporters. Funds from the semi-formal evening will be used for buying hospital equipment.

The $30 per couple Christmas Ball is an annual event, always held the first weekend in December.

The Ball is the culmination of six fundraising events held by the Auxiliary.

Sorry ladies of the auxiliary, Royal Canadian Legion Branch 120, I do not have the results of last Saturday's zone darts in Bronte, maybe next week.

Dec. 13 there is a Christmas party at the Brampton Legion. Dec. 18 is our own Christmas celebration when we honor our senior members. Don't forget the meeting starts at 7 p.m. and do please remember it is pot luck so do go all out and bring your favorite dishes.

I am happy to report that Lily Maybanks is out of hospital and is at home with her son and his family. Arthur Tells me that Lily will be happy to have visitors and all are welcome. The address, 95 Moun-

Grief stricken
By WINIFRED SMITH
Herald Correspondent

BALLINAFAD-The community was grief-stricken and shocked this past week with the news that Mrs. Fred Shortill (Willa) had died in a car accident near Peterborough Dec. 2. Mrs. Shortill was born, raised and still living in the community until she was suddenly taken in the midst of life.

$5,000 delay
Road alignment work on Guelph Line in the Village of Campbellville will go ahead, Halton Regional councillors decided last week.

A motion to defer the work to March to allow for further meetings between Regional staff, and local residents and business people was put forward by Milton Coun. Bill Johnson.

Although supported by Halton Hills Coun. Rick Bonnette, Marilyn Serjeantson, Pam Sheldon and Mayor Russ Miller, the motion lost. Halton Hills Coun. John McDonald was in favor of the reconstruction.

Public Works Director Bob Moore said a delay would cost Halton about $5,000.
