

in 21st annual midget tournament

The Sunny Acres Farms midgets (in black) weren't pushed around in the Georgetown tournament. They advanced to the semi-finals before being defeated by the eventual tournament champions Waterloo.

Team sponsor Walter Bianchi received a team sweater from the Sunny Acres Farms midget captain for his support of the youngsters. Last year Mr. Bianchi was honored as a Hockey Heritage Award recipient.

It's a breakaway for a Waterloo forward in the final game against Stratford. This was the 21st annual midget tournament sponsored by Georgetown.

With the goaltender no where in sight, this Sunny Acres Farms midget forward might have been in a good position to score had he not been tripped up.
