Shooting Stars

Several local students have made names for themselves as sharpshooters in recent free throw competitions that have been held. On the left are Joe Borges and Bridget McCauley, who both took first place in their divisions for Holy Cross School at the district competition. At the Regional competition, Joe took first, and Bridget as third. On the right is Marcie Quinn, a Centennial School student who won a gold medal in the Optimalist Club's Shoot, Pass and Dribble competition for 12 and 13-year-olds. (Herald photo)

Acton wins OFSAA title

The Acton High School senior girls' volleyball team captured the OFSAA "A" championship title last week as they went undefeated in six matches at a 16-team tournament hosted by West Elgin High School of West Lorne Thursday and Friday.

The tournament was divided into four pools, with four teams in each. In preliminary action, the Acton squad defeated South Porcupine (15-8, 15-5); West Elgin (15-13, 15-3); and Clarke High School of Newcastle (7-15, 15-6, 15-10), to take top spot in their pool.

Acton then met Delhi in quarter-final action, and after dropping a 15-4 opening game, bounced back to take decisions of 15-9 and 15-6 to earn a berth in the semi-finals.

There, Acton faced Ignace and swept two games straight, defeating their opponents 15-4 and 15-10.

In the tournament final, Acton went up against a strong team from Confederation High School in Val

Caron, and emerged as the champions in what coach Bruce Andrews called a real "nail-biter".

Confederation prevailed in the opening game of the match, as they took a 15-11 decision.

Acton came back in the second to shade Confederation 19-17 in the second game and followed up with a 15-12 victory to claim the championship crown.

This marked the first time Acton High School has won an OFSAA team championship.

The school has been building towards a championship team for the last few years, according to Coach Andrews, and steady improvements have been made along the way.

"Last year was the first time we went to OFSAA," he said. "We played five matches and lost all of them. So it's a credit to the girls for winning this year. They had an excellent tournament."

Andrews had especially high praise for Susan Craig, who is also a member of the Halton-Peel team which plays in the Ontario Volleyball Association. "She was by far the most outstanding player at the tournament," he said.

Several other players on the Acton team, according to Andrews, "played their hearts out" as well.

Acton finished their season in Halton competition with a record of six wins and three losses, after getting off to a somewhat slow start.

Major Midgets end season

The Sunny Acre Farms Major Midgets' hockey season came to a close Friday in Waterloo.

After waiting two weeks to find out who their OMIHA opponent would be, the squad went down three games straight to Waterloo, the same team that won a midget tournament hosted by Georgetown in January.

The first two games of the set were less than memorable, with scores of 10-1 and 6-2.

In Game Three, however, the locals put on a tremendous display of hockey at its best, demonstrating disciplined play-making, and moving the puck well.

Goalie Joe Hanson set the mood for the team in the early minutes of the game, by coming out to challenge Waterloo shooters time after time.

The game was marred only by an injury to Neil Munro.

As Friday the 13th luck would have it, Rory Kennedy missed a chance to capitalize on a penalty shot in the second period, by mere millimetres.

The Georgetown players persevered to the final buzzer, and managed to press Waterloo in their zone for much of the final few minutes, but came up short by a 4-3 margin.

Terry Dixon accounted for two of Georgetown's goals, while Chuck Peebles added a single. Assists were awarded to Tim Bennett, Mark Hillier, Rob Cooper, and Mike Ross.

Both players and parents were pleased with the team's season, and offer their thanks to coach Rick Hulme, assistant coach Dave Bell, manager Tony Chiovetti, and trainer Ed Toone for giving of their time and talent.

They also thank team sponsor Walter Binchi,
