

Waste proposal by Acton man

An Acton man's proposal for a waste separation plant has been brought to Halton Regional councilors' attention by Coun. Rick Bannette.

Mr. W. Slamen has been asked to talk about his recycling facility to the Region's solid waste management committee next Monday.

The facility is now operating in the Netherlands, and removes recyclable materials from household garbage as it arrives.

Called the Holland Recycling Company, it can process 100,000 tons annually of domestic waste. The Region's Public Works Director Bob Moore says such a facility would require provincial approvals under the Environmental Protection Act and may require Environmental Assessment approval. Currently, Halton residents separate the tin cans, glass and newspaper from their garbage themselves, for recycling.

$200 damage

Damage to a car parked on Raylawn Crescent in Georgetown totalled $200. The hood of the car was walked over between 12 and 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Fails to yield

A Georgetown man received minimal injuries and was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way after a traffic accident Friday at 7 p.m. The man was parked at the Georgetown Marketplace on Guelph Street when he pulled out and into the path of a vehicle west-bound through the parking lot. Damage to both vehicles totalled $4,000, police said.

2 car collision

A Georgetown man was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way after an accident on Park Street in Georgetown March 10. At 8 a.m. the man pulled onto Park Avenue and hit an eastbound vehicle causing $1,200 damage, police said.
