Burlington rink repeats as champs

It was a close battle, but a Burlington rink skipped by Gladys Sawyers held on to win the annual North Halton Ladies' Spring Break Bonselpiel last Wednesday, and claim their second consecutive title.

The bonselpiel was hosted by the North Halton Ladies' Curling Club, and sponsors for the event were Young's Pharmacy, William McNally Construction, and Adam's Distillers.

A total of 16 rinks attended the bonselpiel, travelling from as far as the Kitchener-Waterloo Granite Club, Richmond Hills, Oakville and Burlington.

After the two draws were completed, officials had to use plus points to determine the over all winner. Sawyer's rink compiled 33 1/2 points on the day, while Alice Frazer's North Halton rink matched that total.

However, the decision went to the Burlington club on the basis of their plus points record.

Other members of Sawyer's rink include Marg Russell, lead; Noreen Salari, vice; and Ev Conn, second.

This was the same group of ladies who won the championship title at last year's bonselpiel.

Curling with Frozer's runners-up rink were Eva Bradley, lead; Marion Smeaton, vice; and Peggy Schlosser, second.

The winners of the opening draw was Edie Lowe's K-W Granite Club rink.

Each member of the winning team received crystal as the top prize.

North Halton Sports looks to settle score

By RITA DAVIDSON
Herald Special

The Major Novice North Halton Sports team has battled all year in a league that has had very tight competition.

Losing only one game to Chinguacousy, the North Halton team pressed on to end up on top of their division. The championship will be decided between Streetsville and hopefully Georgetown. Hopefully, because at the time of this article's writing, the entire team is waiting to see how many goals Burlington compiles. If the total has a difference less than six then Georgetown is in.

Apparently the two clubs have the same win-loss record so goals for will count to decide first place.

Georgetown hopes to be there since they have a score to settle with Streetsville and intend to take the Tri County crown as their due.

This is because the novices recently met Streetsville in Plattsville, where North Halton won their first game over Waterloo 1-0 and then met Streetsville who upset the locals' plans by defeating them 3-0.

Sunday evening in Stoney Creek the North Halton Sports team showed they deserve the first place status as they defeated Stoney Creek by a 4-0 score.

Goal scorers were David Boere, Scott Truman, Scott Lahey, and Marc Boucher.

Steven Heinz earned a well deserved shut out.

EDITOR'S NOTE: It was learned Tuesday that the North Halton Sports Novice AA team will get their crack at knocking off Streetsville.

In a game Monday night, Burlington played to a scoreless deadlock with Stoney Creek, giving North Halton Sports the right to advance to the Tri-County finals.
