Members aim to set up new housing organization

Coun. Pam Sheldon is among the Regional councillors being named to the Board of Directors for the new Halton Region Non-Profit Housing Corporation.

Planning and public works committee members agreed with Regional Chairman Peter Pomeroy last week to have three members from each of the Region's three committees (health and social services and administration and finance) sit on the board.

Mr. Pomeroy anticipated it will take a "tremendous" amount of work to set up the new housing corporation and get it working for Halton.

Establishing the corporation is Halton's biggest step in trying to get non-profit housing in the Region. Previous attempts have failed.

The Region's housing coordinator Stan Barkowitz said there is a $1,000 grant available from the Ministry of Housing to cover costs of incorporation.

The new corporation will use existing Regional resources and staff time, Mr. Barkowitz explained. Burlington Coun. Walter Mulkevich said the corporation will make sure Halton gets its share of provincial funding available for non-profit housing projects.

"You need to have this organization in place to take advantage of what's going to be coming down the road," Coun. Mulkevich said.

Milton Mayor Gordon Krantz said his only concern about establishing the corporation was it develop into a bureaucracy on its own. He said he agreed to it "reluctantly".

45's card sharks get just rewards for most points

The 5th Annual Stompin' Tom Trophy was presented May 2 to Clifford Evans of Georgetown. He racked up a season's total of 123 points playing "45's," a very popular card game from Prince Edward Island which is now gaining widespread acceptance in southern Ontario.

The Georgetown chapter of the 45 Club meets every 3rd Saturday from September till May, and this year held its banquet in Milton where Mr. Evans was the guest of honour.

The runners up were Art Hawes of Limehouse with 118 points, and 3rd place was shared by Janette Hawes and Debbie Nelligan with 110 points each. The yearly boogie prize, which goes to the player with the least points, was good heartedly accepted by Ann Evans.

Stompin' Tom Connors presented the Grand Trophy to Mr. Evans in the early part of the evening and later stayed on to help celebrate the occasion.

UW thanks its volunteers

It was certainly appropriate holding the United Way annual general meeting during national volunteer week said president Jim Kinnear.

Mr. Kinnear said he wanted to recognize the volunteer organizers and canvassers, many from the Red Cross, who offered their support to the campaign, he said.

Last year the goal of the campaign was to raise $87,000, but the United Way has now received over $90,000, he said.

Meeting the target shows that people in Halton Hills were ready for a United Way, said the president. In 1987, the United Way hopes to double what "we can give to member agencies," said Mr. Kinnear. The government is increasingly talking about cost-sharing with volunteer organizations and thus the responsibility of the United Way is growing, he said.

A number of individuals and commercial supporters were thanked at the meeting such as Jack Boulet, Joe Sports, C and S Printing, Georgetown Co-op and TDW Sales and Service. District co-ordinators of the campaign and the media were also thanked for their assistance with the campaign.

Resigning Campaign Chairman Tom Hewer welcomed John Wickens to his old post.

The residential campaign is still the largest single source of income, said Mr. Wickens. He stressed the need to have volunteers to share the responsibilities of the canvass District captains and their canvassers are the key people in the campaign, Mr. Wickens said.

Appreciation awards were given to the Halton Board of Education and the Halton Region, accepted respectively by Bryn Davies and Chairman Peter Pomeroy.

Accepted on the 1987-88 board of directors were the following people: John Schaljo, Riet Schenk, Fran Goodkey, Tom Gibson, Suzanne Brown and Lorraine Andrews.

We all feel need to help

The United Way made it possible to have a Toronto Distress Centre, said its executive director.

Rev. Gordon Winch, known sometimes as the Padre of the Pubs, spoke at the Halton Hills United Way Annual General Meeting last Wednesday evening.

Last year there were just under 50,000 calls received by the distress centre, he said.

The director told of a number of people who use the Centre. Sometimes it's women who have been beaten, a newcomer to the city without a network of friends or people with delusions about naked ladies or having tea bags stolen.

"Volunteering brings back to me how I'm a part of every man and every woman out there," he said.

"Learning to care for each other - that's what I see in this room," he said.

Hockey star at church birthday

By KAY WILSON
Herald Special

NORVAL-Home United Church held its 125th anniversary service May 3 at 11 a.m. The guest speaker was former hockey player Paul Henderson, known for his days with the Toronto Maple Leafs and as a hero of the '72 hockey series against the Russians. He's now affiliated with the Athletes in Action ministry.

Mr. Henderson spoke about growing in the Lord, encouraging people to practise mission work in their own area.

The choir, led by Mrs. Laura Forbes, sang three special numbers, Amazing Grace, Jesus Walked the Lonesome Valley and It Is No Secret What God Can Do. A fellowship hour followed the service.

Expensive filter

Environmental Elements (Canada) Ltd. has the automatic backwash filter needed at the Georgetown Water Pollution Control Plant, Halton's Public Works Director has decided.

The filter is needed as part of the expansion of the Plant to handle development in Georgetown South and West.

Halton Region's planning and public works committee members approved the sending of a letter of intent advising Environmental Elements that their equipment has been selected for the Plant, at a cost of $28,322.

Library grant

The Halton Hills Library has received $755 from the province to be used for the purchase of French language materials. The funding has come from the French Language Library Collection Development Program.

Chief Librarian Betsy Cornwell says the libraries' existing French materials are highly popular with teens.

50/50 winner

Ken Weston, 8 Durham Street won $81 in the third 50/50 draw sponsored by the Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.
