Senior Rebels keep record at .500 mark

The Georgetown District High School senior girls' soccer team split a pair of regular schedule games last week, leaving them with a record of one win, one loss and a tie to this point in the season.

Tuesday, at the high school, the Rebels defeated Perdue 4-1, but on Thursday, they suffered a 4-0 setback on the road, at the hands of White Oaks in Oakville.

The loss to White Oaks was actually closer than the score indicated, according to GDHS coach Sheena Kewley. "They're a strong team, but the wind factor had a lot to do with the game," she said. "Two White Oak shots were going over the goal, but the wind held them down and they dropped in behind our goalie."

Despite giving up the four goals, Kewley was exceptionally pleased with the performance of her goalie, Mich McEachern.

"Mich played fantastic, and she's been playing super all this season."

McEachern was back-up goalie for the team last season and took over duties permanently this year.

In general, Kewley is very pleased with the way the entire team has played this season. "They're playing more cohesively, and more as a team. I'm pleased with the way they're doing. They lost to a real powerhouse."

White Oaks advanced to the OF-SAA finals last season, representing the Golden Horseshoe.

The GDHS seniors were scheduled to take on Oakville Trafalgar yesterday (Tuesday), in what Kewley felt would be a game they could gage themselves by.

One factor that hindered the Rebels in their recent game with White Oaks was the fact that two of their key defenders were missing from the game.

Against Perdue, four players shared in the scoring as Lisa Mason, Sandy Rahn, Nancy Mustard, and Kim Daquano all found the mark.

Senior soccer action resumes next Tuesday for the Rebels as they host Loyola.

The top four teams in the eight-team senior league will advance to post regular season play.

In the junior ranks, the Rebels kept their undefeated record intact as they doubled Perdue 2-1 Tuesday, and then played to a 1-1 draw with White Oaks on Thursday.

The junior Rebels' record now stands at two wins and one tie in regular season play.

They also see action Tuesday against Loyola.

The Town of Halton Hills has challenged the Town of Milton to match their community spirit in the Great Participation Challenge. Joanne Wilson, supervisor of special events for the Halton Hills recreation and parks department, and Ralph Wilding, honorary Town Crier for Halton Hills, made the trip to Milton last Monday to officially put forth the challenge. Milton accepts challenge for Participaction '87

It's official. The Town of Halton Hills and the Town of Milton will go head-to-head in the 1987 version of the Great Participation Challenge.

Joanne Wilson, supervisor of special events for the Halton Hills Recreation and Parks Department, and Ralph Wilding, honorary town crier for Halton Hills, made the trip to Milton on Monday night to inform council members there, of the community's intentions to "out-participate" them.

In a ceremony prior to Milton's council meeting, Wilding brought greetings from Mayor Russ Miller and the Town of Halton Hills and decreed the following:

"On Wednesday, May 27, 1987, during Canada's Flitweek, the Crownlife Participaction Challenge will be taking place. The object of this event is to motivate your residents to participate in 15 minutes of physical activity and report their activity to the town.

"We wish to challenge you, our neighbours, in a friendly competition of community involvement. As part of the Challenge, the community with the lowest percentage of participation must agree to fly the winning municipality's flag at their municipal office from May 28-31, 1987."

"Please accept our challenge and join us in supporting a healthy, active lifestyle."

And as further inducement, Wilson presented a skipping rope to Mayor Krantz.

Last year, Halton Hills challenged Caledon in the Participaction Challenge, and came out on top with a participation percentage of 24.

It's difficult to say how the Hills will fare out this year against Milton, but suffice to say, they mean business.

Residents will be asked to take part in some form of physical activity on May 27, and then call in to Challenge Headquarters, ensuring their name will be included in the total list of those tallied.

Many organizations will be staging special events on the Challenge day, to help bolster Halton Hills' participation numbers, and Wilson says she is realistically counting on a bottom line figure of 28 per cent when all is said and done.
