Down Falls escorts a student back to her part of the concrete at the opening celebrations of Park McArthur, Sandy Scouler, Sue Doole, and Barb Knapp. (Herald photo)

The Great Participation Challenge provided opportunities for many people to experience the unusual May 27 as these ladies took part in a scavenger hunt starting at Work That Body at Mountainview Road and Guelph Street. The ladies walked a one mile route looking for clues and objects. Halton Hills lost the challenge to Milton so Milton's town flag was raised at the Georgetown municipal buildings for the remainder of the week. (Herald photo)

Recently over 500 cooperators from the agricultural industry who helped with research, teaching and extension programs were honored at an annual Ontario Agricultural college dinner, at the University of Guelph campus. Attending the dinner were (from left to right): Donald and Doris Lindsay, R.R.#1 Georgetown, Ontario, Ken and Helen Murray, Kitchener, Ontario, and Host Prof. Norm McCollum, Horticultural Science. Halton Regional Police Force Chief James Harding is seen here presenting former Herald staff member Sandy Campbell with a media award May 13. Mr. Campbell's article on a man who rescued a girl from a potential assault was voted the top news story in 1986. The award is presented annually to the media in a variety of categories by the Halton force. (Photo submitted)

Poor Health Influences Emotions

"Almost any type of medical condition has some emotional impact," says Dr. Gary Snow, Psychologist, Sunnybrook Medical Center, Toronto.

Dr. Snow is investigating the effect of stroke on an individual's mental health. He has found that many become worried about their future, physical abilities and limitations, and can suffer severe depression.

Programs Offer Alternatives to Drinking and Driving

Hiram Walker Brands Limited has taken the lead in trying to discourage drinking and driving - a situation that is putting Canadians at risk. "Alcohol-related problems hurt us as an industry. We can't stick our heads in the sand and pretend drinking-related accidents don't happen, so we have taken steps to try to correct the situation," Gabi Laszlo said.

Mr. Laszlo, who is spokesperson for Hiram Walker's Canadian Club Designated Driver and Responsible Host programs went on to say, "The key to the success of the program is that it is simple and easy to implement, using readily available inexpensive material."

Laszlo said the program has been accepted because it offers a sensible alternative to drinking and driving. One member of a party in a bar, restaurant or tavern, volunteers to drink only non-alcohol beverages and then assumes the driving duties for the other members of the party when they leave.
